Public misled over unsafe NHS, says barrister

Robert Francis QC

THE NHS is so unsafe that if it were an airline aeroplanes would 'fall out of the sky all the time', says the man who led the Stafford Hospital inquiry.

Robert Francis QC said the public had been given a misleading impression about the quality of care being provided in many hospitals and urged for radical changes.

He also accused health bosses of being so 'complacent' that they believed it was reasonable for some patients to be badly failed as long as the majority were not harmed.

"If we ran our airline industry on the same basis, planes would be falling out of the sky all the time," the barrister said.

"We've just got to change the attitude that because it's provided by the state it's all right for a number of people to be treated badly; well it's not. Airlines would go out of business very quickly if they worked that way."

Mr Francis added politicians needed to avoid knee-jerk reactions before joining protests about the closure of hospital services.

He urged MPs to 'pause before they speak' and said some changes to services were needed to save lives. He said: "I think it is always difficult for politicians to support changes, for example a local hospital closure or change in pattern to services because they out of necessity respond to local concerns.

"We need to change that. We need to have information for the public to understand that what is being proposed will give better outcomes."

Mr Francis believes the culture of the NHS is changing, with a greater atmosphere of openness and candour.

It comes as Kate Godfrey, Labour's prospective parliamentary candidate for Stafford, submitted a judicial review to fight changes that will see the University Hospital of North Staffordshire run Stafford – and the Royal Wolverhampton Trust run Cannock.

NO MP CONTACT, SAYS TORY CHIEF

THE CONSERVATIVE Party leader on Cannock Chase Council says he has not spoken with the area's MP for three months.

Tory MP Aidan Burley is standing down at the next election following the controversy over a Nazi-themed fancy dress party. He announced on February 5 that he would not seek re-election.

But the leader of the Conservative group on Cannock Chase Council, Councillor Paul Snape, has now revealed the pair have not spoken since February 3, despite the Tories having given Mr Burley their full backing.

By Daniel Wainwright

Mr Burley's fiancee, Councillor Jodie Jones, has now resigned from the party to become an independent. Her resignation plunged the Tories into third place on Cannock Chase Council meaning the official opposition will now be UKIP.

Procedure

Councillor Snape said: "February 3 was the last time I spoke to Aidan Burley. He promised to work with us on the campaign. Then he resigned two days later.

"We had no warning and we've not spoken since.

"All's going well now. We are disappointed over the election results but we are moving on and are starting the selection procedure for a new candidate in June.

"We fought a good campaign but UKIP obviously appealed to the electorate."

Neither Miss Jones nor Mr Burley, who got engaged last year, responded to requests for comment.

Councillor Jones was said to have been distressed after reports in a national newspaper in February dragged up photographs from her student days at parties. Mr Burley's resignation came after he was revealed to have admitted to a Conservative party investigation that he purchased a Nazi uniform for a friend to wear on a stag party in the French ski resort of Val Thorens in 2011.

At the time, Councillor Snape revealed the MP had his group's full backing. But a week later would be the last time they would speak.

Miss Jones had previously been chairman of the Cannock Chase Conservative Association but left the position before her party met to discuss the furore around Mr Burley.

She became the district's youngest ever councillor at 23 when she was elected to represent Rawnsley in 2011.

After Thursday's election the Tories and UKIP had six councillors each.

But following Miss Jones's resignation the Tories only have five, while the Lib Dems have three and there are two independents.

Slam dunk for Stephen

Jazz James and Maud Taylor at the Slam Dunk festival

THOUSANDS of music fans flooded streets and venues in Wolverhampton as a rock festival raised money in memory of Stephen Sutton.

Slam Dunk saw 45 acts take to seven stages in and around the city's Civic Hall. And donations came flooding in for the Teenage Cancer Trust.

Last year Stephen had ticked off one of his bucket list wishes when he crowd surfed in a dinghy at Slam Dunk.

Meanwhile, tickets have gone on sale for a huge tribute gig to the inspirational Burntwood teenager.

A string of top tribute acts will take to the stage at Sing For Stephen, which will take place on Thursday, July 17 in at the Top Of The World suite at Couture nightclub in Stafford. There are 1,000 £15 tickets for the event.

All proceeds will be donated to the Teenage Cancer Trust. Call 01785 246914.

Appeal on Ivy House scheme is considered

CANNOCK'S historic Ivy House faces an uncertain future as developers consider whether to appeal against a decision to save the 143-year-old building.

The Wolverhampton Road building, a former workhouse and maternity hospital, was earmarked for demolition to make way for 12 houses and four flats.

But Cannock Council's planning committee threw out the proposals after being swayed by protesters' arguments.

Developers Wrekin House Trust have said they are looking at options that include appealing the decision or drawing up fresh plans – leaving the future of the site in the balance.

Quality

A statement said: "We are currently considering our options.

"The rejection of our application for planning to build these much needed houses and apartments was very disappointing, particularly for the many families needing good quality affordable housing in the Cannock area."

Campaigner Margaret Price, of Wolverhampton Road, said: "If the plans are changed so the frontage of the building is kept then we would be happier."

Poppy beds to honour fallen

POPPY beds are being planted in five Burntwood parks to mark the centenary of the outbreak of the First World War.

The town council has donated the seeds to be planted in Burntwood Park, Chase Terrace Park, Chasetown Memorial Park, Redwood Park and Chase View Park. The poppy beds will be created this summer and should be in flower between August and September.

The council said it wanted to find a fitting way to pay tribute to the fallen.

Pub under scrutiny as minors are served

A CANNOCK town centre bar is facing a review of its licence after staff were caught selling alcohol to minors in a sting operation.

It is the second time in 18 months that Missoula, in Market Place, has been caught serving under-aged customers. And, a report says, police have been called out 29 times in two years.

Officers are calling for conditions to be imposed on the bar's licence when bosses appear before a Cannock Chase Council committee today (Thursday).

Two under-age volunteers were sent into the bar last November and one of them was served an alcopop.

Training

The staff member concerned was formally interviewed by police, admitted the offence and was subsequently given a fixed penalty notice.

It later emerged that just a month earlier they had taken an online training course about serving under-age customers.

The report by Sgt Tracey Carsley says the 17-year-old was 'at no point asked for her age or for any identification prior to the sale taking place'.

The report says: "We believe a review of the premises licence is necessary."

Guided tour of war camps

COUNTY archaeologist Stephen Dean will lead a guided tour of Cannock Chase war camps next week.

The free walk is open to Friends of the Museum of Cannock Chase and to anyone else who may be interested.

Participants should meet at Cannock Chase Visitor Centre, Marquis Drive, between 7 and 7.30pm on Wednesday, June 4.

Society members are reminded there will be no meeting on June 11.

Missing cat found after Facebook plea

OWNERS are rejoicing after their missing cat was found – thanks to the power of social media.

Lee and Rachel Ellis turned to Rugeley Cats Society to help in the search for their missing moggy Oliver. The black and white cat disappeared from the family home in Bradford Street, Hednesford on March 25.

Mr Ellis contacted vets, called the council and appealed on Facebook for anyone that could help. Rugeley Cats Society took on the search and posted appeals on the social media site.

Nine weeks after going missing, Oliver was finally found, on a supermarket car park, and has been reunited with his owners.

A Rugeley Cats Society spokesman said: "I had a message from a Katie Groves from Hednesford saying she thought she had spotted Oliver on the Tesco car park in Heath Hayes. I told her to phone the number on the poster I had put on Facebook and I also texted his owners and said there was a possible sighting.

"They raced to Tesco and there was Oliver sitting on the car park, slightly thin and a few cuts and scrapes. So after nine weeks of being missing he is finally home, found just two to three miles away. The power of Facebook."

Legal challenge over hospital downgrade

A LEGAL challenge has been launched against controversial plans to downgrade Stafford Hospital.

Papers have been lodged at Birmingham High Court calling for a judicial review of the decision to strip services.

Labour's parliamentary candidate for Stafford, Kate Godfrey, is behind the action. She said: "'I am leading this high court battle as someone needs to take a lead and stand-up for Stafford Hospital."

Miss Godfrey claims a thorough analysis into the hospital was not carried out by the trust special administrators.

A separate challenge has been launched by the Support Stafford Hospital campaign group but is yet to be handed in.

Stafford Borough Council has agreed to pay for the battle against health secretary Jeremy Hunt's proposed overhaul of the site. Meetings with lawyers are currently being held.

Future

Miss Godfrey said: "We're here to show that local hospitals have a future."

In February the Health Secretary approved the plans to dissolve Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, with the University Hospital of North Staffordshire taking over the site.

It will see A&E opening hours permanently reduced to 14 hours, the number of births there reduced by half, very sick children no longer treated at the Weston Road site and major surgery done at neighbouring hospitals.

In a statement, the TSAs said: "The TSAs continue to implement the approved recommendations, with no alteration to their running of the trust, and are satisfied that they have followed all the correct procedures during the administration process."

New code of conduct for nurses

A NURSE who blew the whistle on the Stafford Hospital scandal has urged patients to get involved in a major review into the way nurses work.

Helene Donnelly, now ambassador for cultural change at Staffordshire and Stoke on Trent Partnership NHS Trust, is asking the public to get involved in the Nursing and Midwifery Council's (NMC) current review of the nursing code of conduct.

The nursing body is drafting a new version of its code which sets out standards of conduct, performance and ethics. It will say patients should be treated with kindness, consideration and respect. Patients and the public can have a say over what standards nurses and midwives should abide by.

Helene said: "This is a very positive measure by the NMC to open up the review of their code of conduct to the public and I would encourage patients to have their say about what they feel it should take into account.

"Involving the people we care for will, I hope, help them to have a greater level ownership and also reminds nurses that it is our patients we are accountable to, not only our registered body."

Businesses pass hygiene test

Jan Mitchell, second from right, hands out certificates to Tony Minshall, Natalie Weaver, Maureen Smith, Deborah Cope, May Kendall and Samantha Nicholls

A NUMBER of Penkridge businesses have passed a food hygiene course with flying colours.

The one-day course, held at Penkridge Market, was organised by May Kendall, owner of the site's Old Deanery Cafe.

It was open to all local businesses and could now be held on a regular basis for local businesses or market traders.

The course is accredited by Ofqual and is recognised by the Chartered Institute of Environmental Health. It is required by anyone working in a catering or retail setting where food is prepared, cooked and handled. It covers food safety laws and safety hazards, as well as the principles of safe storage, cleaning and refrigeration.

The course was attended by Lee Adams and his assistant Samantha Nicholls from Lee Adams Butchers, Penkridge, by market traders such as Tony Minshall, from Fine Cheeses, as well as staff from the Old Deanery Farm Café. Everyone successfully passed the Level 2 Award in Food Safety in Catering and were presented with their certificates by Jan Mitchell of Basix Training.

Jan, who has more than 20 years of experience in delivering food hygiene courses said: "I'm sure this training will help maintain the market's excellent reputation."

Gym staff use pedal power in fundraiser

STAFF at a Hednesford gym were among those taking part in a cycling challenge to raise money for the British Heart Foundation.

Ten PureGym centres from across the Midlands participated in the Tour de Pure, 'travelling' 146 miles – the distance between all the gyms taking part – on two static bikes set up in the foyer of each club.

PureGym Hednesford managed to raise £300, the most of all participating centres, and completed the 146 miles in nine hours.

Managers, personal trainers and gym members all played their part.

Funds

The bikes were also open to members of the public who wanted to get involved. In return they were given a free day pass.

Funds were raised by encouraging people to raise sponsorship or via bucket collections. A raffle and bake sale were also on offer to boost the funds.

Winning clubs were those that completed the 146 miles first and also raised the most amount of money.

Jason Carter, General Manager of PureGym Hednesford said: "It was a fantastic day."

Chance to see birds of prey

WILDLIFE enthusiasts can get up close to birds of prey this weekend.

Cannock Chase Visitor centre at Marquis Drive is allowing people to spend a morning learning about the history and uses of falconry.

People will then get the chance to handle and feed a selection of raptors. Visitors will also be able to get photographs of them holding the birds.

No dogs are allowed. It takes place on Saturday (May 31) from 10.30am.

Admission is £5 for adults and £3 for children.Call Steve Archer to book on 01543 871773.

Coffee morning

A COFFEE morning is being held at Bourne Methodist Church, Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes, on Saturday (May 31). It takes place from 10am to noon with Ploughman's lunches to follow. Proceeds go to Teenage Cancer Trust.

Pub plan at historic building debated

PLANS to open a new pub creating 19 jobs were being recommended for approval this week despite objections from neighbours.

Pub chain JD Wetherspoon is behind the scheme to convert the vacant historic Anglesey Lodge in Anglesey Street, Hednesford.

Cannock Chase Council's planning committee was meeting yesterday (Wednesday) to discuss the proposals which were being recommended for approval.

Fourteen objections were sent to the district council, with people raising concerns about noise and disturbance as well as anti-social behaviour and loss of privacy to neighbouring properties.

An officers' report states: "The retention of this building for leisure use would have a significant positive impact upon the vitality of the town centre.

"The proposal would secure the long-term maintenance of the listed building and introduce an attractive use into the town centre that would have a significant economic benefit to the town."

Hednesford Town Council has supported the scheme saying it will contribute to the regeneration of the town centre.

Friends group wartime show

A RUGELEY entertainment group's latest show will commemorate 100 years since the outbreak of the First World War.

The Best of Friends show, called The First World War And On, takes place at St Joseph's Community Centre, Rugeley, from 7.30pm on June 7 and 8. It contains songs and poems from the era.

A collection will be held for Help For Heroes.

Tickets are £5 including refreshments and are available from Sandra on 01889 585588 or on the door on the night.

Funds for school

NEARLY £900 was raised at a school fete in Great Wyrley. The event at Moat Hall Primary, in Johns Lane, generated £888 on Saturday, May 17. Proceeds will go towards school funds. The fete included a scarecrow hunt, DJ, bouncy castle and Punch & Judy show.

Mark's named as Volunteer of the Year

Volunteer Mark Downs

A CANNOCK man has been named as a Volunteer of the Year for his efforts with the British Heart Foundation.

Mark Downs received the Retail Volunteer of the Year Award.

He has been recognised, during the 30th anniversary of Volunteers Week, a week dedicated to celebrating volunteers across the UK, and which takes place from June 1 to 7.

Mark claimed the title for the dedication he has shown in the Cannock shop, helping the charity to raise money to fund life-saving research into heart disease.

Volunteering with the BHF for just 30 hours could fund a young scientist for a whole day.

The BHF currently provides the salaries for around 500 post-doctoral scientists who work in research teams right across the UK on projects to better understand how to diagnose, prevent, treat and cure heart disease.

Mark said: "I am delighted to have been given such a prestigious title as there are so many worthy volunteers who give their time to the BHF.

"I have made some wonderful friends and have so many lovely memories. I would encourage anyone to volunteer for the BHF as it is such a rewarding experience and you get to meet the most fantastic and inspiring people.

"We also have a lot of support as volunteers and there are lots of things you can do to get involved."

Jo Bridgewood, area manager for Cannock said: "Volunteers are absolutely essential to the success of the charity, and play a vital part in fighting coronary heart disease.

"We simply couldn't do the amazing work we do without people like Mark."

Setback for son after mother's kidney gift

By Charlotte Lilley

IT was supposed to be the gift of life when Nathan Black's 70-year-old mother Adrianne donated one of her kidneys.

But just two weeks before he was due to be given the all-clear, the 45-year-old found himself in hospital with complications.

The toxins in his body had begun to rise and not enough blood was going to his new kidney.

The father-of-three, from Brownhills, was forced to undergo three ultrasound scans, a biopsy, an MRI scan and an angiogram, which confirmed the organ was being starved of blood and as a result was slowly dying.

After 10 days in Birmingham's QE Hospital, doctors made the decision to remove the kidney and on May 1 it was taken out.

Mr Black is now back on dialysis three times a week, four hours a day, at Samuel Johnson Community Hospital in Lichfield.

Adrianne and Nathan Black

Experience

The hospital performs 600 transplant operations a year, 200 of which involve kidneys. Only one in 20,000 patients across the country experience their kidney being killed off in this way.

"Unfortunately I was one of those statistics," said Mr Black. "It was a big shock and I was absolutely devastated, as was my mum.

"I was two weeks away from being signed off from hospital and being free to go and enjoy myself."

It was in 2005 that Mr Black's kidneys began to fail after he picked up a disease that went undiagnosed.

He received the transplant from his mother in February and has since been receiving counselling to help him come to terms with what has happened.

"My girlfriend and my friend are going to get themselves tested to see if they are suitable matches but I cannot have another transplant until August so that my body is ready for it."

Mr Black is back on the donor waiting register along with 6,000 other kidney patients.

He is now urging people to get themselves tested to see if they could be a potential match and wants to encourage more people to sign up to become a donor.

Mrs Black of Tudor Road in Burntwood, said she would go through the procedure again if she could to help her son.

"The transplant made such a fantastic difference to Nathan during the 10 weeks it was in place," she said. "The difference a successful transplant makes is just wonderful to see."

Olympian in visit to inspire children

YOUNGSTERS were inspired to take up a sport by an Olympic swimmer who visited their school.

Joanne Jackson, 400m freestyle bronze medallist at the 2008 Beijing Olympics, went along to Littleton Green Community School in Huntington to hold a fitness workshop.

The school completed a sponsored keep fit event, raising money for Sports for Schools. Miss Jackson also cut the ribbon on a new £10,000 climbing wall.

She said: "I love coming into primary schools. Even if I only inspire a handful of kids. I worked them really hard during the fitness sessions. It's all been about getting them into sport."

Headteacher Lynn Small said: "Joanne took the keep fit sessions and spoke to the youngsters about drive and determination."

During a sport-themed week, youngsters flew kites and played hockey, football, cricket and wheelchair basketball.

The sponsored keep fit sessions saw the children doing star jumps, jumping jacks and press ups.

Miss Jackson retired from the sport in 2012 and now goes into schools to inspire youngsters.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

IN the never-ending debate about diet and health, this is one viewer's email to a BBC discussion: "I am over 60 and have drunk full-fat milk and eaten butter all my life. I weigh 10 stone and my oil pressure is normal."

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

I MAY have the solution to all these thugs wandering off from open prisons. The Government should simply announce the creation of HMP UK. The entire landmass of Great Britain would become an open prison and a convict would be deemed to be at large only when he escapes to a foreign country. And then he's somebody else's problem.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

INTERESTINGLY (a word which sometimes indicates nothing of interest is to follow), during the entire Second World War, only one German prisoner-of-war made it out of HMP UK and back to Germany. Franz von Werra, a Luftwaffe pilot and persistent escaper, was shipped off to Canada where he leaped from a train, crossed a frozen river and surrendered to the authorities in the United States, which was then neutral. He was repatriated to Germany, resumed flying, crashed into the North Sea on a routine flight and was killed. Not such a great escape.

THE housing crisis is caused by two issues. Firstly, houses are in short supply. Secondly, they are too expensive. Or so we are told. A sceptical reader in his 70s writes: "Hang on. Can anyone remember a time when houses were cheap and plentiful?"

A WIFE-swapping sex party allegedly held in a mansion in Kent was provided, according to the organisers, for the "sexual elite." Or, as we used to call them, adulterers.

SINGING the praises of the 5:2 diet, a Daily Telegraph reader tells us that Ethiopians, who fast two days per week, have been practising this diet for centuries. What he doesn't tell us is that life expectancy in Ethiopia is about 60.

DAVID Attenborough has admitted that the famous BBC 1924 broadcast of a cellist playing to an accompaniment of nightingales may have been faked. If so, it was only the first of many little deceptions. In the 1930s the hugely popular George Bramwell Evens, better known as "Romany of the BBC," presented a series of wildlife rambles. Although he was a great traveller, Romany's rambles were actually recorded in a studio. A pile of old film stock was rustled to create the sound of walking through bracken. I refuse to get outraged at such practices. If camera crews and sound recordists had to present real events in real time, wildlife documentaries would have bored the pants off us years ago.

I WROTE about some unusual motorway gantry signs. A reader tells me he spotted HIGH RISK OF DEER ON ROAD in that well-known bucolic paradise and nature reserve, Glasgow.

THE clinical, agonising but oh-so polite dissection of Ed Miliband at the hands of Radio Wiltshire presenter Ben Prater is almost too painful to witness. A few well-chosen questions revealed that the Labour leader had no idea who runs the local council or even who leads the Labour opposition on the council. Miliband emerged as a prize chump. After a performance like that, I don't give much for his future. Ben Prater's future, that is.

UKIP breakthrough as Tories take battering

by Rob Golledge

UKIP became the second biggest party in Cannock after Jodie Jones quit the Conservatives to become an Independent.

Councillor Jones's decision to leave the party has pushed the Conservatives into third place - behind UKIP, who are now the main opposition on the authority.

Miss Jones – who is Tory MP Aidan Burley's fiancee – will now continue as an independent councillor.

She became the district's youngest ever councillor at 23 when she was elected to represent Rawnsley in 2011.

After Thursday's election the Tories and UKIP had six councillors each. But now the Tories only have five, while the Lib Dems have three and there are two independents.

Cannock's Conservative leader Councillor Paul Snape said: "This is quite a shock and I am disappointed that Jodie has not spoken to me or my deputy about her decision."

Notice

Labour council leader George Adamson said: "Jodie handed in her notice but I don't know what Aidan will think.

"If she wanted to stand as an independent she should have done so on Thursday."

UKIP councillor John Bernard, now the official opposition leader on Cannock Chase, said: "It's good news. It is a surprise."I did not think we'd be the second party in Cannock. I thought next year would be our year."

It was a miserable night at the polls for the Tories who lost two councillors to UKIP and one to Labour.

Labour strengthened its hold on the authority increasing its numbers to 25. The results marked a tremendous rise for UKIP, which only formed a Cannock Chase branch in September following the defection of three Conservative councillors, Linda Whitehouse and John and Ann Bernard. Mrs Whitehouse lost her position on the council after moving ward to contest the Brereton and Ravenhill seat which was retained by Liberal Democrat Gerald Molineux.

Popular independent councillor Mick Grocott retained his seat in the Western Springs ward.

Impressive

One of the most dramatic results saw Conservative John Rowley lose the Etching Hill and the Heath ward to UKIP's Stephanie Whitehouse by 21 votes. He said: "UKIP have had a very impressive night.

"It is disappointing to lose but it means I can concentrate on being chairman of Rugeley Town Council and continue to work hard for the people of the town."

Newly-elected councillor Whitehouse was abroad but her party chairman Alan Dean was delighted with the results.

Councillor Dean, who won the Heath Hayes East and Wimblebury ward from the Conservatives, said: "We have had a brilliant night. We now have six councillors. It has been a dramatic rise for us. In the space of a few months we have matched the Tories."

Councillor Snape said: "It has been a very disappointing night."

Councillor Adamson looked nervous during the count but beat UKIP's Mick Sage with a majority of 189.

He said: "It has been a good night for Labour as we extend our control of the council but the story is UKIP and the complete destruction of the Tories."

The future is purple, says MEP Etheridge

THE UK Independence Party has been basking in the sunshine of success in the European Parliament elections, despite one of their three new West Midland MEPs making umbrellas for a living.

But while UKIP enjoyed their victory with seven seats up for grabs in the region, there was nothing for the Liberal Democrats to celebrate having lost their only West Midlands seat in the Brussels parliament. Labour, meanwhile, doubled its tally of MEPs.

The Conservatives won two seats having previously held three. Former UKIP MEPs Mike Nattrass and Nikki Sinclaire, who both formed breakaway Eurosceptic groups, also lost their seats.

Newly-installed Dudley Councillor, Bill Etheridge, has had a double celebration after winning the votes to become a UKIP MEP.

Mr Etheridge, aged 44, had already stood as UKIP's candidate to be the West Midlands Police and Crime Commissioner in 2012 but came fourth behind Labour, the Tories and an independent candidate.

The victorious Mr Etheridge declared: "The future's bright, the future's purple."

And he said he would continue to serve as a local councillor, despite his new job in Brussels.

Newly elected MEP Jill Seymour, aged 56, declared that voters were 'fed up' of the 'same old rhetoric and spin' as she celebrated with supporters and her husband Brian, aged 77.

Umbrella-maker and fellow new MEP James Carver, aged 44, has been with UKIP since 1996.

Newly-elected member Neena Gill, aged 57, was an MEP for Labour from 1999 to 2009 but lost her seat in the last election. Second on Labour's list was Sion Simon, aged 45, the former Erdington MP.

Meanwhile, Tory MEP Philip Bradbourn, aged 62, has now held his seat in Brussels since 1999. Anthea McIntyre, aged 59, was not elected in the 2009 poll but got her seat after officials within the European Parliament decided the West Midlands should have another seat.

Deadline extended to vote for 'Star Pa'

THE deadline to submit nominations for Cannock Shopping Centre's Star Pa Award has been extended until Sunday, June 8.

The shopping centre is on the lookout for somebody who deserves the accolade as part of its Star Awards.

There are many reasons for making a nomination. It could be for giving up their time to help those less fortunate, volunteering with local community groups or maybe that they are simply a very special dad.

To nominate a Star Pa email cannockstars@pmwcom.co.uk with an explanation of why they deserve to win. The deadline ismidnight on Sunday, June 8.

Include both the nominator and nominee's names, and contact numbers along with the age of the nominee and the town they live in.

Shopping centre manager Natal Chapman said: "I am looking forward to receiving more nominations.

"People's kindness can sometimes be overlooked so we thought it would be nice to reward a dad or father figure for their selfless efforts in time for Father's Day."

The winner will receive an engraved Star Award, as well as a prize courtesy of Cannock Shopping Centre.

Family film on big screen

WRECK-IT-RALPH is showing at Cannock's cinema club this weekend.

Organised by CreateChurch, the CreateCinema:-Club takes place on the last Saturday of the month from 10am to 12pm at the Electric Palace Picture House in Walsall Road.

Youngsters can watch classic children's filmswith their parents and carers, for just 50p each. Tea, coffee and squash will be available at no extra cost.

The family-friendly CreateChurch meets every Sunday from 10am at Littleton Green Community School.

Summer soiree

A SUMMER barbecue and grand draw takes place at a Rugeley church next month. The Church of the Good Shepherd, in Hislop Road, Pear Tree estate is the venue for the event, from 2-4pm on Saturday, June 21. It will also include a cake stall and bric-a-brac.

Specialist support for dementia sufferers

PATIENTS with dementia and their families are being assigned specialist staff as part of a new scheme.

The Memory First project in Cannock and Stafford gives each patient an 'eldercare facilitator' – employed by St Giles Hospice and Douglas Macmillan Hospice.

They provide support for patients and their families and carers, to help them to access the services and support they need.

The pilot programme incorporates locally-based memory clinics led by a consultant psychiatrist or an advanced nurse practitioner, with social care services, charities and end of life support. The aim is to ensure, where possible, patients are able to access care in their own community under the care of their GP with expert support from South Staffordshire and Shropshire Healthcare when needed.

Tracey Malcolm, an eldercare facilitator responsible for patients in Cannock Chase, Heath Hayes and Cheslyn Hay, said: "I think the service is already making a big difference. That's clear just from the really positive feedback we are getting from patients, their relatives and carers."

"I think a lot of that is down to the fact the patient has the same person coming to see them all the time. That continuity of care can be vital especially to patients experiencing dementia and to their family and carers."

Two teams of Eldercare Facilitators operate across Cannock and Stafford and the surrounding area, taking referrals from GPs in the area and then contacting patients directly, before going out to their home to carry out an assessment and organising a personalised care plan.

"We organise everything for them. Booking them into a memory clinic using an electronic calendar as well as making sure the patient and their carer are aware of all the care available to them, signposting them to services like Alzheimer's Cafes, the Carers Association, MAZE, Respite Care and any websites or online resources they can access for support."

The pilot, developed by Cannock and Stafford and Surrounds Clinical Commissioning Groups in partnership with South Staffordshire and Shropshire Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust and led by GP First, has been awarded £80,000 of funding in the NHS Innovation Challenge Prize.

New governors' group to improve school standards

A NEW group has been formed allowing school governors to regularly to help improve standards.

The Staffordshire governance forum will meet at district and county level and have discussions online for members who cannot attend meetings.

It will be an independent group for governors to share ideas and experiences. And teaching leaders and education officials will only attend if they are invited.

The forum will start meeting in June, with chairmen of governors from all Staffordshire's 400 schools invited. It is the inspiration of Paul Woodhead, chairman of governors at St Peter's CE Primary School, Hednesford.

Mr Woodhead was appointed chair of governors at St Peter's in June 2012, just as it was put in special measures after previously being rated as good.

Tough

St Peter's regained its good status in 2014. Mr Woodhead said: "On coming out of special measures I began to think that given the number of schools which have undergone similar journeys, ours should not have been so tough from a governance perspective.

"School governors tend to work in isolation. That's why I set up the Staffordshire Governance Forum."

Councillor Ben Adams, Staffordshire County Council's cabinet member for learning and skills, said: "Governors have a vital role to play, supporting senior staff but also challenging performance where necessary; not just on academic results, but on their progress in providing personal skills, careers guidance and collaborative working with industry and other schools."

Film theme for carnival procession

A DAY at the Movies is the theme for this year's Brereton Carnival.

The event, which was resurrected in 2013 after an absence of more than two decades, takes place this year on Saturday, July 12.

The procession departs at 11am from, starting and ending at Hawkins yard, Redbrook Lane. It will travel along Birch Lane, Coalpit Lane, Main Road and Redbrook Lane.

A free fun day takes place in Ravenhill Park from noon until 5pm with live entertainment from The Rock Dogs, clog dancers and stiltwalkers.

Draw

There will also be group displays, charity stalls, refreshments and a grand prize draw. Further details can be obtained from the organisers Brace website at www.brereton carnival.co.uk

The Santa 'Tour de Brereton' takes place on December 9 and 10, while a free family Christmas disco is being held on Saturday December 14 from 6.30 to 10.30pm and Brereton & Ravenhill parish hall.

Student's concert thanks for hospital

Sixth former Rebecca Fraser with headteacher Barrie Scott and Justine Cleary from Birmingham Children's Hospital

A HIGH school student who was admitted to hospital three times after her lungs collapsed has raised more than £500 for the ward that looked after her.

Rebecca Fraser developed a spontaneous pneumothorax at the age of 12, meaning her lungs began to cave in each time she experienced a growth spurt. The condition affects two in 10,000 young adults in the UK every year.

Rebecca, now aged 16, was admitted to Birmingham Children's Hospital three times in four years for operations to repair the problem and has since been given the all-clear.

The Cannock Chase High School pupil said: "I was growing at a rate that my lungs could not keep up with and they would being to tear and cave in and required surgery.

Grades

"I was studying for my GCSEs the last time I was admitted but I studied really hard and managed to pass with 13 GCSEs grades A* to B.

"It was really scary each time it happened but I have now been discharged and that is why I wanted to raise money for the hospital and the nurses who cared for me."

Rebecca, of Hednesford Road, organised a charity concert at her school and raised £531.She is studying to become a primary school teacher and arranged the concert as part of her A-level music BTEC course.

THE Education Secretary has reportedly caused a storm by calling for American novel of Mice And Men to be dropped from the GCSE syllabus. According to the Department for Education, Michael Gove wants to see more emphasis on British classics.

Now I know very little about English literature, but remember reading Of Mice and Men And Men at school. And insofar as any work of fiction has ever touched me, I did find it mildly moving. So to dismiss it as unworthy simply because it comes from another country seems a touch narrow-minded. However, when we read that book at school, we were 13 and 14 years old. It was part of our third-form studies, not our O-Levels. Another example of dumbing down in our exam system?

TAXI drivers in Russia have come up with a novel way of dealing with passengers who don't pay their fares. Cabbies in the city of Nizhny Novgorod have taken to tearing off the clothes of fare dodgers, and then dousing them in blue paint. Which I imagine is quite a scary sight for revellers just pouring out of the clubs, who suddenly find themselves being confronted by a group of angry, naked smurfs. Still, I think this idea has got potential, and deserves a trial in this country. Now about those drivers who ignore the one-way system at Tesco...

OURS weren't the only elections last week, by the way.

While we have endured endless coverage of Messrs Farage, Cameron, Miliband and Clegg, the people of the Ukraine have also been to the polls. And while we have elected a bunch of Euro MPs who will spend the next five years debating the merits or otherwise of wonky bananas, the Ukrainians have elected the owner of a chocolate factory. Now, of course, few people in Britain would want to swap their lives for those in war-torn Ukraine, but you have to say they have got the better deal this time. They get Willy Wonka. We get the Oompa Loompas.

LONELINESS among the over-65s could be tackled by training more older people to use the internet, a think tank has suggested.

Land Girls tribute is anniversary gift

Guests were dressed for success to mark a couple's silver anniversary, reports CHARLOTTE LILLEY

GUESTS rose to the challenge after being asked to dress in 1940s attire.

The sights and sounds of the war era came to life at Angela and Henry Tomlinson's themed silver wedding anniversary which turned into a good old knees-up.

Sixty guests celebrated in style with the Tomlinsons in a marquee set up in the couple's garden at their Cleat Hill Farm home in Rugeley.

And rather than ask for presents, everyone who went along donated money to the Women's Land Army Tribute project, which is currently raising money for a statue to commemorate Land Girls and Lumber Jills who served during both world wars.

Endure

A total of £600 was collected.

The 1940s theme for the party was housewife Mrs Tomlinson's idea. She said: "I have always loved the war era and that is why I decided it would be the theme for the party.

"The fashion was fantastic and although people had to endure the war which must have been very frightening, they had such great values.

"I knew the Women's Land Army needed money for a statue and I decided to help them. Henry and I didn't want or need any presents so instead we asked for people to donate money.

"I can honestly say it was one of the happiest days of my life and everyone who came along thoroughly enjoyed it."

Entertainment at the party included singing and comedy duo The Land Girls, made up of Kaz Howell and Lynsey Davies. Laura Bill, a 1940s tribute act from Wombourne also performed and there were cakes and cream teas provided by Kandii Kane Lane.

Happy couple Angela and Henry Tomlinson love the 1940s period

The Stafford-based catering company provided all the vintage tables and crockery as well.

Traditional afternoon tea was served, including finger sandwiches, mouthwatering fresh scones with jam and cream, cakes including Victoria sponge and several trifles, a favourite of Mrs Tomlinson.

Emma Taylor, owner of Kandii Kane Lane, said: "Everyone at the party dressed in 1940s attire. The guests made a fantastic effort. It was a really lovely party.

"There were four of us there and we all dressed in 1940s pinnies and wore victory rolls in our hair."

As well as all the food, 60 different flavours of tea was served, including fruit, Indian and organic varieties.

There was also a charity auction where a bottle of Scotch whisky was auctioned off for £105.

Mrs Tomlinson, aged 52, who married her farmer husband, 53, at Gentleshaw Church on May 17 1988, said it was the perfect way to celebrate her silver anniversary.

Although she revealed it was not quite love at first sight, adding: "Henry was my neighbour and we grew up together but we didn't like each other initially and I was always teased about him.

"Then one day something clicked and on our third date he asked me to marry him so I did."

The couple have a 15-year-old son called Joshua.

Statue

Just under £70,000 has been raised so far for the Women's Land Army Tribute memorial by Staffordshire Women's Food and Farming Union.

The group needs £90,000 to unveil the memorial and pay for insurance costs.

The bronze statue will be installed at the National Memorial Arboretum in Alrewas.

The memorial will be a sculpture of two young girls dressed in their well known uniforms, linking arms. It will be unveiled in the autumn.

Sculptor Denise Dutton has been chosen to create the sculpture at her Stoke studio. Lumber Jills were women who worked in forestry during the war.

Eunice Finney, spokesman for the Women's Land Army Tribute, said: "It's great to receive donations for the tribute. Especially from people who realise the importance of the work of the Women's Land Army during both world wars.

"Without their efforts we would never have fed the nation."

All donations for the statue should be sent to the Womens Land Army Tribute, c/o Amerton Farm & Craft Centre, Stowe-by-Chartley, Stafford, ST18 0LA.

POLITICS

WITH DANIEL WAINWRIGHT

IT'S about time councils scrapped this system of electing a third of its members three years out of four.

When control of councils are on such a knife-edge as Walsall was, and indeed still is, it does nothing to provide stable or long-term plans.

County councils went to the polls last year and everyone went up for election at the same time. They now know what they have to deal with for the next four years. A year on from those elections, those councillors are currently immune from the ups and downs of politics.

Whether UKIP's successes in the metropolitan boroughs of the Black Country was a blip, a protest or the start of something new and different in politics, it won't make a difference in Staffordshire's County Hall.

Contrast that with somewhere like Walsall, where a coalition of Tories and Lib Dems were clinging on by a thread until Thursday and had only set out cuts for the next year, rather than the coming five as has happened in Wolverhampton where Labour had too many councillors to shift.

Being stuck in a coalition is no political party's idea of a good way to run local government but knowing that, for better or worse, it has to last a long time at least forces everyone to knuckle down and get on with it.

As it stands, Walsall has to go through all this again next year. Labour will try to make friends with some independents. The Tories will try to find common ground with UKIP.

Was it the leaders who were the biggest liabilities on polling day? Whether it was Ed Miliband's messy attempt to eat a bacon sandwich, David Cameron ringing for a chat or Nick Clegg in a Birmingham cash-and-carry they have gone to great lengths to appear in touch.

The attempt generally fails thanks to the stage-managed public appearances and army of aides and advisers who guide them about.

Nick Clegg said three times in Brum that leaving the EU would be 'economic self-harm', as though he were crow-barring in prepared sound bites to any question where it might just about work.Ed Miliband got a standing ovation in Walsall, twice – but that's easy when the only people invited to the meeting are people already on the Labour mailing list.

And David Cameron ringing the Express & Star himself, rather than having an aide do it then pass him the phone, was so perfectly 'normal' it had to have been pre-planned.Nigel Farage, meanwhile, is not remotely normal – for a politician. He's a wealthy, public-school educated former banker but smokes and knocks back the pints. The mainstream party leaders should start not trying abnormally hard to be normal.

Thousands sign condolence book

Very Rev Adrian Dorber, Dean of Lichfield, lights a candle for Stephen Sutton at the Cathedral

HUNDREDS of people have signed a book of condolence at Lichfield Cathedral for inspirational teenager Stephen Sutton.

Ahead of the 19-year-old's private family funeral, a short opening service will take place at 7pm tonight (Thursday) to welcome the 19-year-old's coffin which will lie on a platform in the centre of the nave. The cathedral will be open for people to pay their respects from 7pm until midnight tonight and from 7am until 3pm tomorrow (Friday). Instead of the traditional minute's silence, a moment of celebration will be held at 11am tomorrow.

Those paying their respects will be able to light a candle, sign a book of condolence and make a donation to the Teenage Cancer Trust. Flowers can be laid in The Close.

Farewell vigil for Stephen

THE family of Stephen Sutton say they want to give people a chance to 'say goodbye' to the inspirational teenager as they announced a two-day vigil at Lichfield Cathedral.

His body will rest in a place of honour in the 1,000-seat cathedral today (Thursday) and tomorrow, ahead of a private family funeral.

Thousands of mourners are expected to light a candle and sign a book of condolence for the inspirational fundraiser who died aged 19.

The Very Reverend Adrian Dorber, Dean of Lichfield, said: "Stephen's vigil will allow for people to come in and pay their respects."

Goodbye

Stephen's mother Jane said: "We know that thousands of people have been inspired by Stephen's story. We want to give all of his friends and supporters and especially local people who supported him from the start the opportunity to come and say goodbye."

Thousands are expected to post thumbs-up photos on Twitter, Facebook and Tumblr as part of the Teenage Cancer Trust's Thunderclap event.

The family have asked that people continue to respect their wishes for privacy at and around the time of the funeral.

Support for families is pledged

IF Labour wins the next General Election energy prices will be frozen until 2017. This will save Chase families an average £120 a year and an average small business user would benefit by more than £5,000.

Helping families and business is a priority for me. I fully support helping families across Cannock Chase and I'm fed up with residents, in some cases, having to choose between heating their home or eating.

I have been asking people to sign my petition asking for gas and electricity prices to be frozen. The response has been fantastic and the Tory-led Government should listen to Cannock Chase people.

Unfortunately they have not and I'm furious that Aidan Burley voted against the price freeze. He failed to stand up for hard-pressed families across Cannock Chase.

JANOS TOTH
Parliamentary Candidate, Cannock Chase

'Ugly' Ivy House serves no purpose

I AM not one of those celebrating the saving of the Ivy House on Wolverhampton Road. It is an ugly building and of no great historical importance to Cannock.

What concerns me is the spaceship-looking building which has landed next to the Ivy House and which casts a monstrous shadow over homes on South Close.

The building includes 63 rented apartments for elderly people, a GP surgery, pharmacy and respite centre for people with learning difficulties. There may be a need for such facilities but not to the detriment of people nearby, many whom have lived there for decades.

The building is questionably much too close to the borders of these homes and its size is having a huge impact. There have always been large buildings there. Hillcroft House nursing home was there for as long as I can remember and so was the adjacent Langbourn House. But these were built much further away from South Close and were not on this enormous scale. I don't think anyone in South Close would have been upset about similar sized buildings on the site – but this building is on a titanic scale.

Councillor Muriel Davies, health and wellbeing portfolio holder at Cannock Chase Council, welcomed the application with open arms when plans were passed at the time. The people of South Close certainly don't hold her view.

ANDY RICHARDSON, Cannock

Claim over UKIP stokes the fires

R SMITH of Burntwood (Letters, May 8) professes shock at a perception of an increase in racial bigotry and intolerance and then stokes the fire by alleging UKIP is stirring up irrational hatred.

UKIP is the only party that quizzes prospective candidates about any past membership of extreme parties, the only one to quickly kick out the liars and the only one that addresses the reasonable fears of a public who have been ignored by the political establishment.

UKIP blames the main parties for paying the EU £55m a day in membership dues, imposing a bedroom tax here while paying for gated communities to be built in the Third World, increasing Foreign Aid by 28 per cent at the same time as closing hospital wards, allowing foreign murderers and rapists to stay here and alleging we cannot stand on our own outside the EU. We managed on our own for centuries before we were sold down the river by Ted Heath.

CIWF cash collected

LOCAL volunteers took to the streets of Cannock on April 19 to raise money for Compassion in World Farming, Britain's leading farm animal welfare organisation.

The £124.08 raised will enable Compassion in World Farming to continue to campaign for increased standards of farm animal welfare.

LUCIE SIM DAVIS

Spending by Labour is in DNA

IN response to Paul Witton (Letters, May 8), George Adamson and the Labour run Council has increased Council Tax year on year since they came to power.

They repeatedly ignored the offer of a Government subsidy to freeze and penalised all the residents of Cannock Chase District purely for political purposes.

This year they have accepted the Government subsidy enabling them to freeze Council Tax, nothing to do with good management or careful budgeting but a national Government that assists local councils with the financial problems caused by the last Labour Government. Labour will always be the party of spend, spend, spend. It is in their DNA.

Conservative South Staffs have frozen their Council Tax for the last three years, yet they supply first class services and their residents still only pay half that of Cannock Chase residents.

An honour to serve village I grew up in

PLEASE may I take this opportunity to thank everyone who voted for me in last week's local elections in which I was elected to represent Norton Canes.

Please may I also take this opportunity to thank everyone who helped on my campaign, especially my agent, Councillor Mike Holder.

It is an honour to represent the village in which I grew up and I promise to do so with the best of my abilities.

COUNCILLOR JOHN PREECE

Thanks to electorate

I WOULD like to thank all the people who supported and voted for me in the local elections.

I am very honoured to have been re-elected to serve you again in Cannock West, I would also like to thank all the dedicated people who worked and helped me with my campaign.

I sincerely thank you all.

Campaign trail memories

I WOULD like to thank everyone who voted for me in the local election in Heath Hayes East and Wimblebury Ward.

Although I was not successful, I have enjoyed getting out and about in the community and have many happy memories while on the "campaign trail."

Thank you again for your support and very best wishes.

Nico ensures it's a dog's life for suspects

A POLICE dog and his handler have been praised after helping to disarm two men with knives.

Pc Rich Birkin and Nico also collared a burglary suspect – all on the same shift.

A senior officer praised the pair for their efforts. Inspector Chris Dawson, of the Tactical Support Department, said: "These incidents show what a fundamental role our dog handlers and their canine colleagues play in policing the streets of Staffordshire.

"Each situation is different and our police dogs are pivotal in defusing these situations and are a less lethal option in comparison to taser or firearms support.

"Pc Birkin and Nico have been together for nearly three years now and are highly valued members of our Tactical Policing Team."

Police dog Nico and his handler Pc Rich Birkin

Weapon

The first incident, on May 12, saw them attend a call for assistance just after 11.30pm. Officers were responding to reports that a man was threatening to harm himself with a knife in a residential street in Cannock.

Pc Birkin, with Nico, worked with Armed Response Officers to engage with the man and persuade him to drop the weapon. They were able to safely detain the man and he was taken to a place of safety for the appropriate medical treatment.

Less than an hour later, they were called to another incident involving a man with a knife, threatening officers in High Street, Chasetown. Nico and Pc Birkin again helped to help bring the incident to a safe conclusion. A 40-year-old man was safely unarmed and arrested. Simon Hateley, of New Street, Chase Terrace, was charged with possession of a knife in a public place and is set to appear before magistrates at Cannock on Tuesday June 3.

Just after 4.10am on May 13, Pc Birkin and Nico responded to reports of a man acting suspiciously in Cardigan Place, Cannock. Colleagues discovered a nearby business premises had been broken into. The pair tracked down the culprit, along with suspected stolen property, and an arrest was made.

Carl Morgan, 41, of Highland Road, Huntington, was charged with burglary and put before magistrates at Cannock the following day.

He admitted the offence and the case was adjourned for pre-sentencing reports.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Riders coast along for challenge

The fundraising Knights Templar riders, who travelled coast-to-coast for St John Ambulance, and their support team

A TEAM of cyclists saddled up for a coast-to-coast ride over 147 miles for charity. Six members of the Knights Templar Staffordshire & Shropshire Province, a side order of the Freemasons, raised £5,000 for life saving equipment to be used by St John Ambulance.

John Derry, 52, from Rugeley, Bob Wilkins, 48, from Sutton Coldfield, 49-year old Martin Snape from Wolverhampton, Howard Jenkins, 64 of, Great Wyrley, Jonathan Bryan, 49, who lives in Church Eaton, and Paul Molley, 52, from Sandbach, rode from Whitehaven in Cumbria to Tynemouth, Tyne & Wear in order to buy two all-terrain medical response bicycles for the charity.

These will be added to the St John Ambulance fleet of eight that currently serves Shropshire and Staffordshire.

Scout numbers on rise

MORE youngsters from Staffordshire are signing up to the Scout movement – with a three per cent rise in new recruits over the past year.

The total number of children and adult volunteers signing up in the county has risen for the ninth year by almost 300.

The three per cent increase means there are now almost 9,500 people across the county involved in the 108-year-old movement.

Mary Owen, scout leader for the Great Wyrley branch, said membership was 'climbing really fast' across the district.

Valuable

"There is such a great demand that we now have a waiting list here in Great Wyrley and it is the same wherever you go. The children learn valuable life skills including routine and discipline."

The branch,based in Walsall Road, meets every Wednesday. Mrs Owen said beavers, cubs and scouts has around 60 members at present.

She added: "I have been a scout leader for the Great Wyrley scout group for 20 years and it is just as enjoyable as ever. At the minute we need more adult leaders."

To help, call her on 01922 412449.

Caring - How do you cope when all of the balls are in your court?

Juggling the responsibilities which being an unpaid carer brings can be stressful. The Carers Association Southern Staffordshire is here to offer advice and support to help you cope in your caring role.

Does Someone Depend on You?

A carer is anyone who (unpaid) looks after a family member, friend or neighbour who, because of illness, disability or the effects of old age cannot manage at home without help.

The Carers Association Southern Staffordshire (CASS) is a registered charity providing advice, information and emotional support to individual carers living within the districts of Tamworth, Cannock Chase, Burton, Lichfield, South Staffs and Stafford.

We run a regular programme of activities for carers across the county including coffee mornings and interesting taster courses.

We also offer specialist services for young carers, mental health carers and dementia carers.

Don't struggle to juggle... get in touch!

Scarlett's snip off the old locks

Assistant manager Claire Wilson cuts the hair of eight-year-old Scarlett Sephton for the Little Princess Trust

AN eight -year-old girl has had her long locks cut off – and will donate them to a charity that makes wigs for children with cancer.

Scarlett Sephton now sports a bob after more than a foot was cropped off her waist-length hair.

It will go to the Little Princess Trust, which helps children who have lost their hair during cancer treatment. The Wolves fan – a pupil at Glenthorne Primary in Cheslyn Hay – has also raised more than £850 in sponsorship for the charity. She hopes to reach £1,000.

Her mother Gemma, a till worker at Tesco, said: "She saw a film about a girl with leukaemia and it really upset her. As she needed her hair cutting, I told her she had plenty of hair that she could donate to charity.

"She was dead set on it, and we decided to raise money as well. She has done really well."

Benefits cheat term cut

A BENEFITS cheat who falsely claimed £100,000 has had her jail term slashed.

Joanne Brindley, of Chasetown, dishonestly pocketed jobseekers' allowance, income support, housing benefit and council tax benefit as a lone parent. But she had been living with her boyfriend for nearly nine years.

The mother-of-two, aged 39, was jailed for 12 months by Recorder Derek Desmond at Stafford Crown Court in March after she admitted two counts of failing to notify the authorities of a change in circumstances. It was cut to eight months by three senior judges at London's Appeal Court.

Mr Justice Phillips said Brindley made legitimate claims for benefits in 1999 after separating from the father of her children. But when the couple had reconciled in April 2003, Brindley, who lived in Birch Avenue, failed to tell the Department for Work and Pensions and kept up the deception until early 2012. The bogus claims amounted to £100,065.

On appeal, Mr Justice Phillips, sitting with Lord Justice Davis and Judge Anthony Russell QC, said Recorder Desmond's starting point for the sentence was 'manifestly excessive'.

Brindley has been repaying the debt at £290 a month, which will take nearly 30 years to clear.

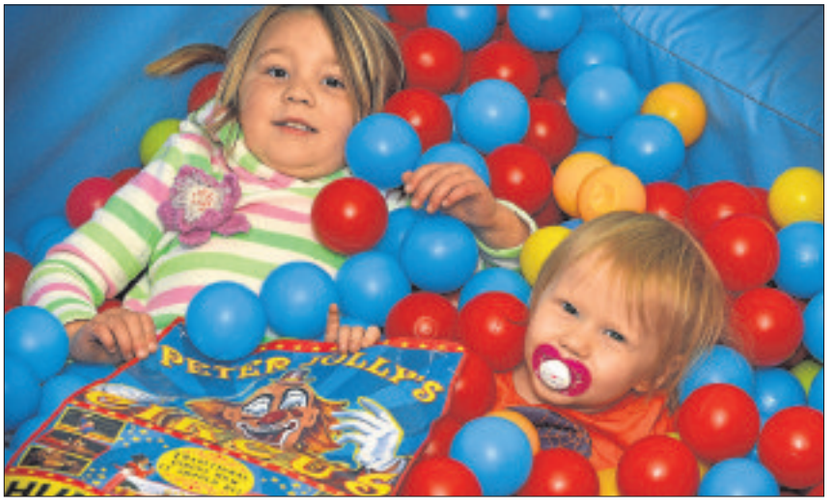
Jolly circus offer just the ticket for charity



Lily-Rose Phillips, aged four and Alyssa-Louise Stain, two, having fun in the ball pool at the Dads charity HQ

THREE hundred free tickets are available for a circus show to raise awareness of children with 'hidden' disabilities and special needs.

The offer has been made by Peter's Jolly's Circus to promote the Dads And Disabilities Support (Dads) charity in Cannock.

The support group for families was set up 18 months ago and organisers want to raise £100,000 to fund a specialist centre for children with conditions such as autism and ADHD.

Tickets are on offer for all members of the public – not just those with links to the charity – and requests can be made by calling 01543 571011. The show takes place at the Huntington car boot site in Cocksparrow Lane at 2pm tomorrow (Friday).

Dads' PR manager Charlotte Phillips, said: "The circus owners approached us and offered to hold a free show for us, so we are really grateful.

"We just want to make people more aware of the challenges facing parents of children with disabilities. We want as many people as possible from across the community to get involved."

At the moment 80 families use the charity, based at Progress Drive, Bridgtown. It was set up by Andy Aldred and Steve Tunas to create a one-stop-shop for children and families with serious conditions.

Mr Aldred's five-year-old daughter Cody-Jo has disabilities which include chronic lung disease, autism, hypermobility, and asthma.

The charity has already managed to raise more than £5,000 by selling unwanted goods and volunteers are appealing for further donations.

Couriers first to Depot of Year post

A CANNOCK courier company has been named 'Midland Regional Depot of the Year'.

EDS Couriers beat 22 other companies to claim the title at the APC Overnight 20th anniversary annual awards ceremony. EDS was recognised for achieving exceptional service levels for local businesses.Receiving the award from celebrity host Hugh Dennis at a black tie ceremony, depot principal Andy Evans said: "We're extremely pleased to be able to take home this award. It's a ringing endorsement of all the hard work that goes into providing a truly first class nationwide delivery and collection service."

National network manager at APC Overnight, Gary Hall said: "It's important to acknowledge the consistently high customer satisfaction levels that EDS Couriers achieved."

Train data ruling looms

A COURT ruling is expected to be made within weeks on whether secret train passenger numbers held by the Government are published.

Campaigners argue the data – which shows how many passengers use trains – will prove that HS2 is not needed.

They have challenged a decision not to publish the figures made by Transport Secretary Patrick McLoughlin, a former Cannock councillor and miner. At Northampton Magistrates' Court, lead campaigner Andrew Green asked a judge in the Information Tribunal to overrule the decision.

Respond

The information was requested under the Environmental Information Regulations, similar to the Freedom of Information Act. Mr Green was given two weeks to submit his final written submission. The Government then has a week to respond before a final ruling is made.

Mr McLoughlin refused to publish the data, saying it was 'commercially sensitive' for the railway companies.

A Department for Transport spokesman said train companies provided the data on a confidential basis as it was 'commercially sensitive' and that the Information Commissioner supported the decision not to publish the figures.

Five-star treatment for caravan owners

Min-y-Don is a five-star holiday home and touring park near Harlech

WANNABE caravan owners heading towards the Welsh coast this weekend may want to head to Min y Don, Harlech's a five-star holiday home and touring park.

The park is experiencing one of the busiest years ever, as more and more people chose it as their location for the perfect weekend retreat by the sea.

Located within the Snowdonia National Park and on a World Heritage site, Min y Don is ideally situated on 18 acres of level, beautifully landscaped land between the coast road and the beach, and set against a backdrop formed by Snowdon and its colourful mountain range.

"The views of the mountainous terrain and the floodlit 13th century Harlech castle are breathtaking," said Sue Hodgson, manager of the park.

"The town itself boasts unique restaurants and shops and, situated on the coastal Cambrian Railway, has excellent train and bus connections."

The spectacular dragon sculpture "Dewi" guards the entrance to the park, where just opposite is the Royal Saint David's golf course, plus a three-mile stretch of golden sand with safe bathing for every age.

Park facilities include Wifi, a dog exercise paddock and there is a swimming pool and climbing wall close by. Holiday home prices start at £11,995.

Sisters' 10k run in memory of father

Sisters Anna Poole, left, and Rachel Pickering, gearing up for their 10km run in memory of their father

TWO sisters took on a 10km run in memory of their father, who died of cancer.

Anna Poole, aged 32, of Cheslyn Hay and Rachel Pickering, 31, of Stafford ran the Bupa 10km Race in London on Sunday.

They took part to raise money for Pancreatic Cancer UK following the death of their father Stephen, an accountant in Walsall, at the age of 61.

Rachel was due to marry her fiance James Braddock this month but brought the date forward to March in the hope her father could attend. But he passed away in February.

The ceremony is now taking place in October at St Mark's Church in Great Wyrley – and Rachel is hoping to use the run as a way of getting in shape for her big day.

She has a year-old son Otto, while Anna has two sons Noah, three, and Darcey, one.

Rachel said: "I think there is a real lack of understanding of pancreatic cancer.

"We were really shocked when he got the diagnosis and we wanted to try to make a difference. We know our dad would have been proud of us."

Lessons to be learned with first aid online

PUPILS in Cheslyn Hay have been invited to take part in a lesson with a difference – a first aid session that will be streamed live into classrooms.

More than 125 schools – including Cheslyn Hay Sport & Community High – are being encouraged to take part in the first ever Big First Aid lesson, a free hour-long online tutorial, on Friday, June 20.

by Simon Stone

New research shows 98 per cent of teachers in the West Midlands think it's vital for young people to learn essential first aid skills in school. Yet only 24 per cent offer training.

Growing

The interactive programme is aimed at students aged between seven and 16-years-old.

Nick Pitt, West Midlands regional schools training officer for St John Ambulance, said: "We believe first aid should be as much a part of growing up as learning to cross the road.

"Because it's not compulsory on the national curriculum, only a minority of children would know what to do if one of their classmates, or a member of their family became ill or injured. It only takes an hour to learn how to save a life, but it could be the most important lesson students learn."

Cheslyn Hay Sport & Community High has more than 1,300 students and places a big emphasis on learning first aid with wellbeing days held during Years 7, 8 and 9 all featuring some first aid training.

It also trains Year 11 and 12 students as part of the curriculum and presents a young first aider award.

Lynne Podmore, head of the school's personal wellbeing department, said: "We believe learning first aid is an important part of the students' all-round education."

50 years as a Rotarian celebrated

LICHFIELD ROTARY

PRESIDENT Christopher Spruce inducted David Smedley as a new member. The president also welcomed David to the fellowship of the club and charged all members to make it their duty to get to know David and make him feel at home.

Meanwhile at the AGM the club agreed to grant honorary membership for the coming Rotary year to the Dean of Lichfield, The Very Reverend Adrian Dorber, Prebendary John Ridyard, Mrs Gwen Chatterton and Mrs Jessica Sequera.

Canon Roger Williams is celebrating the Golden Jubilee of his ordination and he would like members and their families to join him in marking the occasion.

Roger is celebrating his Golden Jubilee Mass on Saturday, June 7 at 11.30 am at the Church of the Holy Angels at Hoar Cross and the Eucharist will be followed by a reception where drinks and canapes will be served.

Roger would be delighted if any club members and their families could join him. Email him at j.williams675@btinternet.com

Associate Member Richard Davis successfully completed the gruelling 45-mile 4 Inns Walk on the club's behalf. His team was made up of his eldest son Ian, his friend Keith Osborne and himself.

They completed the walk in 19 hours and Richard brought along a cheque, which together with members' sponsorship, raised £861 for the Donna Louise Children's Hospice Trust.

Support from gym as cheque handed over

Gymophobics staff present the cheque to a Macmillan representative

MACMILLAN CANCER SUPPORT

THE Rugeley and District Committee for Macmillan Cancer Support was formed in 1973 so have now completed 40 years raising funds for this charity.

Over the years many thousands of pounds have been raised by local people for the benefit of patients living with cancer.

Recently £1,189 was raised by the staff and supporters of Gymophobics, Market Street, Rugeley.

Last year they took part in the annual coffee morning which was followed by a pamper evening and then by a sponsored slim.

The committee have begun the year well having already sent £1,600 to headquarters and intend to send a further £1,500, and are hoping to improve on last year's total of £6,500.

Further fundraising events are planned. For further information call 07855491907

Mystery of missing books

CANNOCK WI

THE first meeting of the 2014/15 year was opened by new president Helen Hallchurch, who then introduced the new committee.

A clematis had been purchased to be presented to the outgoing president, Christine Pace and a gift is to be given to Stella Winfield in thanks for holding the cookery sessions at her home for many months.

The club is hopeful that someone will come forward willing to take over the role for this popular monthly event.

Lunch was enjoyed by all at Shoal Hill Tavern following the AGM. There were very few books for sale this month due to the mystery of the missing book trolley-full of books – which is kept in the church store cupboard.

To see if the mystery has been solved, join the club on June 12 at 10.30am in St Luke's Church Hall.

Next month's entry fees will be donated to Katharine House Hospice.

The speaker for May was local author Tony Hunt, who gave a fascinating talk entitled 'Getting Away With Murder', the tale of an unsolved murder in Bridgtown long ago.

Next month's speaker comes from a local hedgehog rescue centre.

Battling little Margot in 'fantastic' health

HUNDREDS of people turned out for a charity fashion show to support Margot Martini – as her family revealed she is clear of leukaemia.

The youngster's battle with the disease captured the hearts of thousands and sparked a worldwide hunt to find a stem cell match.

Margot Martini

More than 50,000 people signed up and Margot underwent treatment for acute lymphoblastic leukaemiaand acute myeloid leukaemia aged just 14 months when a match was found.

Around 200 people flocked to Tettenhall College, Wolverhampton, last week for the show to raise money for Delete Blood Cancer, the charity that supported Margot and her parents Yaser and Vicki, formerly of Cheslyn Hay High School.

Yaser and Vicki Martini and her sister, Charlotte Hathaway with the models

There was also a donor drive where those attending could be swabbed to see if they are suitable to become donors.

Margot's aunt, Charlotte Hathaway, of Tettenhall, said: "Margot is doing fantastic. Everyone has been asking how she is getting on and it's so good to tell them the good news.

"She is leukaemia free but she still has a few more appointments to check on her progression. She is still on medication and has to visit Great Ormond Street Hospital once a week."

Some of the fashion on show came from Diffusion, Coast and Pro Shop. There were also pop-up shops from Skin and Tonic, Urban Angel and Sally's Sweet Oasis.

A raffle organised to raise funds included a top prize of a five night stay in Boston in the United States.

Miss Hathaway added: "It is important that we keep getting people to sign up to become donors. It's something which could save someone's life. Since Margot had leukaemia, I have followed others who have had the disease, along with Vicki and Yaser, and seen people find matching donors. But more recently there was a guy who sadly died and it is for people like him that makes us keep going and keep on pushing for more donors.

"Margot's story has touched a lot of people, I get spotted wearing the pink bracelet and people tell me they know about 'that little girl', they want to know how she is.

"That says to me there are a lot of people who want to help."

Her family has launched its Just One More campaign in a bid to increase the potential one million UK blood cell stem donors to 2.5 million.

NEWS in brief

Walk group boost for rescue team

A WALKING group has raised more than £300 for the Staffs Search and Rescue team. It will be used to buy essential equipment.

Staff and customers from Springslade Lodge, a campsite and tea room in Cannock Chase, started the walking group 12 months ago and have been fundraising ever since.

Owners Richard and Kaye Le Page presented SSART with a cheque for £333.

PR officer Rachel Good said: "We are delighted."

Heritage group's trek round town

THE Burntwood Chase Heritage Group are having a stroll around Rugeley next Tuesday, June 3, setting off from the car park next to Morrisons at 7pm.

The travels will take in Dr Palmer's house and the grave of Christina Collins. There is no charge, but a collection will be taken for the Teenage Cancer Trust.

Cannabis valued at £15,000 discovered during police raid

A CANNABIS factory worth more than £15,000 was discovered at a flat in Great Wyrley following a raid by police.

More than 20 mature plants and jars of drugs ready to sell were recovered by officers in Hall Lane.

Officers smashed their way into a top floor flat in a three-storey block last Friday afternoon (May 23).

It followed information from the public and a team of four officers discovered the plants in the main bedroom.

They found that rubber draught excluders had been used to disguise the smell from outside the property.

A sophisticated system involving fans, lighting and a water system had been put in place for the cultivation process.

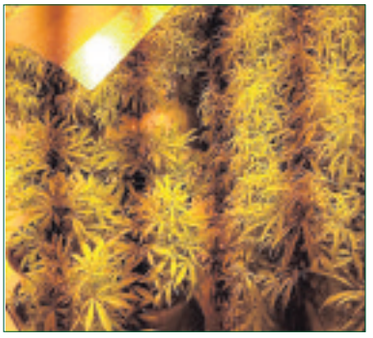
Warrant

Officers from the South Staffordshire neighbourhood action team and the Great Wyrley team were involved in the execution of the search warrant under the misuse of drugs act.

Pc Matt Smith, from the Great Wyrley police team, said of the raid: "It was executed based on information that was passed to the police by members of the public.

"When we went through the door the smell of cannabis was quite strong. In the main bedroom was a professional cannabis growing set up.

"There was a large number of plants and there was eight jars of cultivated cannabis ready to be bagged up and sold."



The cannabis factory discovered at the Great Wyrley flat

He added: "It was a professional set up and by taking something like this off the streets we are having a large impact in ridding drugs from the local community in Great Wyrley.

"If you are caught drug dealing we will find you, we will catch you and we will deal with you."

Pc Smith added the community played a vital role and anyone with concerns about drugs cultivation or dealing should call the police. The cannabis had a street value of at least £15,000 and jars which were recovered had 16oz of drugs.

Plants

It comes as a series of cannabis farms have also been discovered in the Black Country over the last month.

Hundreds of plants was discovered by police in Walsall – in two addresses inside 24 hours of each other.

They were found in Durham Road, Alumwell, and Dudley Street, Caldmore, on May 12 and 13.

Officers in the West Midlands swooped on an industrial unit in Pearsall Drive, Oldbury, on May 1 and a cannabis factory containing was stumbled across by council officers on their way back from a meeting in Wolverhampton on May 8.

The officers responded to calls for help from a family whose roof was leaking.

They managed to get into the flat above in Upper Vauxhall and found two rooms had been converted for growing the class B drug.

Veteran hits out at Colly tweets

FORMER Aston Villa striker Stan Collymore has been criticised by a Navy veteran after he tweeted an offensive message about the Falklands conflict.

The ex-England star posted the controversial tweet to his 566,000 followers on Sunday – claiming Britain had thieved the Falklands.

He wrote: "Falklands? Wasn't anyone's. We just thieved it, as we do. What glory, what triumph."

The tweet has since been deleted, but there have been calls for Collymore to issue a public apology.

Chris 'Kenny' Swain, 50, who served as Petty Officer Gunner in the Royal Navy from 1980 to 2003, said Collymore should be dismissed from his job as a commentator on Talksport radio.

Mr Swain said: "I had a lot of friends that died in the Falklands. I don't know whether he did it to raise his profile, but it's just an outrage.

"He needs to be sacked from Talksport. You can't have somebody with opinions like that addressing the public. I am so angry."

Collymore later tweeted: "Not one mention of 1982, not one mention of our soldiers, navy or airmen, not one mention of Argentina. No mention of the 20th century!!"

Falklands Radio, who ran the story on the island, tweeted: "Anything to do with the Falklands are obviously important to us here, especially the response to a statement such as yours."

Mum's the word for emotional dance night

STRICTLY favourites Katya and Pasha entertain dance fans in Cannock at the end of next month.

It promises to be an emotional night as their mothers get to see them perform.

For Katya Virshilas, her mother has not seen her dance live since 2001, but the wait has been even longer for Mrs Kovalev, mother of Pasha, who has not seen him in action since 1998. There was even a spell, says Katya, that her dance partner didn't see his mother at all for 10 years because she couldn't leave the Soviet Union.

"It will be the first time they have seen us perform so it's going to be quite an emotional evening," said the 30-year-old dancer.

Special

The pair will fly their mothers over for on June 24 so they can take in the last week of the tour – which reaches the Prince of Wales Centre in Church Street on Friday, June 27. They will also get to see their shows in Retford, Bradford and Exeter before the 27-date tour – which kicked off in Solihull last month – comes to a conclusion.

"It will be very special," said Katya, who has appeared alongside Richard Gere and Jennifer Lopez in Shall We Dance and Antonio Banderas in Take The Lead. Parts in Smallville and Supernatural have also come her way.

She said: "I've been so lucky to do what I'm doing. I'm not just a dancer, I'm not just an actress. I've trained to do everything and it's made me a better artist."

Spectacular routines will feature the Argentine tango, waltz and Latin dances, while the show enables fans to get more up close and personal with the dance stars.

Dance stars Pasha Kovalev and Katya Virshilas

Katya said: "Everyone says to us it's so much more intimate. They get to know us throughout the show as well as seeing some of the most amazing dances. It's such an entertaining show."

Audience members can even get to take the stage with the pair. Start time is 7.30pm and tickets are £23. Call 01543 578762 or visit wlct.org/prince-of-wales

One of the last trains to steam into Tettenhall Station, in the 1960s

Dan Brew on his ganger's trolley on the Tettenhall line

The goods depot at Tettenhall Station as it looked in the 1980s

Railway line that failed to pull in enough passengers

JUST after the First World War the railway came to Tettenhall.

The Great Western Railway constructed the line from Low Level Station to Baggeridge Junction, with the intention of then constructing a branch off it from Wombourne to Bridgnorth, though this was never carried out.

The line finally came into use in 1925, and for a few years steam railcars carried passengers along it, but there was not enough demand for this service, and the line became entirely a goods line for the rest of existence, allowing coal to go north from Baggeridge, and for trains to by-pass the Black Country.

The line was one of the early casualties of the Beeching cuts and closed in 1965, and has now become the Smestow Valley Nature Reserve, a popular route for walkers and cyclists.

The little station at Tettenhall, just off Henwood Road, has largely been refurbished, and provided with a new car-park.

The former booking office is used by the park rangers, the station building itself is to be turned into a cafe and now finally after many years of disuse, the goods depot is to be turned into the Tettenhall Transport Heritage Centre, Wolverhampton's first industrial museum.

MEMORY LANE
by Alec Brew

A group of volunteers from the Staffordshire Aircraft Restoration Team has taken on the lease

The volunteers intend to return the building to its former glory, and to pack it with exhibits relating to the city's transport history.

Passes

The site itself is historic, but largely unknown to the people of Wolverhampton.

The work of famous engineers such as James Brindley and Thomas Telford lie within yards of its door.

The old London to Holyhead road passes right by the station's gate, and Staffs and Worcs canal runs alongside the old railway track, and the city's first airfield, at Dunstall Park, is only a quarter of a mile away along the canal.

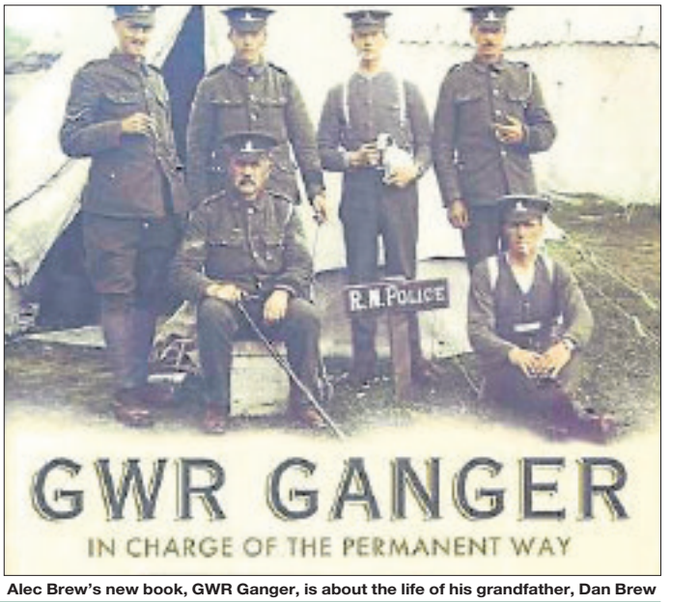
As co-chairman of the charity which will run the Heritage Centre, I have a personal interest in the restoration of the building.

For 28 years the ganger in charge of the line through Tettenhall, was Dan Brew, my grandfather.

Co-incidentally, my latest book, GWR Ganger is the story of his extraordinary life, from country cottage in Oaken to working in the confusion of Oxley Sidings, and then, via a spell working on a farm on the prairie in Canada to the trenches of the First World War, and then back to the railway, finally becoming ganger in charge of the permanent way on the line through Tettenhall.

Anyone wishing to help preserve and restore Wolverhampton's transport heritage can join the heritage centre as a volunteer (£10 per year).

There is a recruitment and open day this Saturday at Tettenhall Station, where copies of the book can be obtained.



Alec Brew's new book, GWR Ganger, is about the life of his grandfather, Dan Brew

What's On!

Veteran singer has show in heartland

ONE of the last of the great crooners of the 1950s, Tony Bennett, will be playing the Symphony Hall later this year as part of a UK tour only visiting Birmingham, London and Glasgow.

The veteran singer, whose signature song is I Left My Heart In San Francisco, has in recent years had hit albums featuring duets, ranging from Lady Gaga and Amy Winehouse to Michael Buble and Paul McCartney.

In a career spanning six decades, the New Yorker who is 87 in August has won 17 Grammy awards. He will be in concert at the Centenary Square venue on September 11.Tickets went on sale last week priced from £45 to £75.

Culture Club to be reunited at NIA

THE original line-up of 1980s chart toppers Culture Club is to play live dates across the UK.

The band, including Boy George, will be playing at the National Indoor Arena, Birmingham, on December 12 with guest Alison Moyet.

It is the first time in 15 years the original quartet, which also includes drummer Jon Moss, bass player Mikey Craig and guitarist Roy Hay, have played together.

Culture Club sold more than 100 million singles and 50m albums and achieved seven straight Top 10 hits in the UK.

Thrones actor in dramatic tribute to great Welsh poet

Vintage ballets revived

BIRMINGHAM Royal Ballet are returning to their city home to present a summer season from June 4 to 15 which is a tribute to founder choreographer Frederick Ashton.

From Wednesday to Saturday at Birmingham Hippodrome, Darkness and Light features three works from the early days of British ballet in the 1930s and 40s.

Created during the war and inspired by Dante's Divine Comedy and featuring music by Lizt, Dante Sonata depicts the struggle between good and evil. Les Rendezvous is a charming ballet about friends meeting in a park and Facade is a comic work based on Edith Sitwell's poems.

From June 11 to 15, Ashton's classic family favourite set in a rural idyll, La Fille mal gardee with its famous clog dance, will be staged at the Hippodrome.

A scene from Frederick Ashton's Les Redezvous performed by Birmingham Royal Ballet

GAME of Thrones actor Owen Teale will return to his Welsh roots in the centenary production of Under Milk Wood, celebrating what would have been the 100th birthday of poet Dylan Thomas this year.

A company of Welsh actors feature in director Terry Hands' touring production at Birmingham Repertory Theatre from Tuesday to Saturday. The production marks the centenary of Dylan Thomas' birth, as well as the 60th anniversary since Under Milk Wood was first produced in Britain, as a radio play by the BBC, in 1954.

Village

The lyrical evocation of the Welsh seaside village of Llareggub (try it backwards) and the secrets of its inhabitants will be revealed in this Clwyd Theatr Cymru production. It also featuresTorchwood actor Kai Owen and Steven Meo from BBC TV sitcom Grownups.

Swansea-born, like Dylan Thomas, actor Owen Teale is currently Night Watch master of arms Alliser Thorne in hit fantasy series Game of Thrones and has also appeared in Stella. He won a Best Actor Tony for his performance in A Doll's House on Broadway .

Shirley Ann Field and Karen Ford star in creepy Victorian melodrama Ladies in Retirement at Wolverhampton Grand from Tuesday to Friday. Propeller Theatre Company, devoted to Shakespeare, are coming to Birmingham's New Alexandra Theatre. A Comedy of Errors will be staged on Tuesday, Friday and Saturday matinee. A Midsummer Night's Dream on Wednesday, Thursday (twice) and Saturday evening.

The National Theatre's hit farce One Man Two Guvnors continues at Birmingham Hippodrome until Saturday.

Owen Teale — Under Milk Wood

Bugg back like lightning for gig

SINGER Jake Bugg has announced an extra date at Wolverhampton Civic Hall.

The Nottingham-born singer-songwriter earlier this month announced he would play the venue as part of his UK tour on October 7. But due to huge demand for tickets, he will also now play the Civic Hall on October 6. His tour this autumn takes in London's Alexandra Palace, while Bugg will also perform at Glastonbury, T in the Park and Reading and Leeds Festivals this summer.

In under three years Bugg has gone from performing in pubs to selling out the Royal Albert Hall and playing to 10,000 at Nottingham Arena. He picked up best new act at last year's Q Awards.

Bunnymen will be returning in July

A CONCERT by Echo & The Bunnymen which was cancelled earlier this month has been rescheduled for July.

The influential Liverpool rock band were due to appear at Wolverhampton's Wulfrun Hall on May 11 but had to pull out when lead singer Ian McCulloch lost his voice.

The concert has now been rescheduled for Thursday, July 3.

All tickets for the original date remain valid, although refunds are available for those unable to make the new date.

Tickets priced £29.15 are available on 0870 320 7000.

Matthew Rhys

The Americans (ITV, 10.20pm)

Over the past couple of years The Americans has attracted a cult following on this side of the Pond, and there's a good chance these final two episodes will leave fans perched on the edge of their seats. This week, Arkady finally plays his hand, and Stan (Noah Emmerich) is forced into an unenviable decision. Meanwhile, Philip (Matthew Rhys) attempts to prep Fred for a vital mission and Elizabeth (Keri Russell) desperately tries to get Jared out. In the season finale, Nina's fate rests in Stan's hands, and Henry and Paige are moved to a safe house. Holly Taylor, Keidrich Sellati, Noah Emmerich, Richard Thomas, Susan Misner, Alison Wright, Lev Gorn, Annet Mahendru, Costa Ronin and Lee Tergesen also star.

MONDAY
The Devil's Advocate, Channel 5, 11pm
A hotshot lawyer is lured away from his provincial practice to work for a powerful big-city law firm. However, he gradually comes to realise that his charismatic new boss is none other than Satan himself, who has a special plan in mind for the ambitious attorney. Supernatural thriller, starring Al Pacino. (1997)

TUESDAY
Daylight, ITV, 10.35pm
A devastating explosion in the New Jersey Tunnel causes a horrific pile-up, trapping a group of motorists underground. A former emergency worker witnesses the blast and heads in to guide the handful of survivors to safety before the waters of the Hudson river above them break through and flood the tunnel. Disaster movie, starring Sylvester Stallone, Amy Brenneman, Viggo Mortensen and Claire Bloom. (1996)

Swingers, BBC1, 11.50pm
Struggling actor Mike's confidence is shattered when his girlfriend breaks up with him. His charismatic friend Trent refuses to let him wallow in self pity, and hurls the lovesick Mike into the Hollywood singles scene in the hope of him acquiring some new female company and getting his self-esteem back. Comedy, starring Jon Favreau and Vince Vaughn. (1996)

The Devil's Advocate, Monday, Channel 5, 11pm

WEDNESDAY
The Other Man, BBC1, 11.15pm
A husband learns his wife is having an affair when he discovers provocative photos of her with another man. He resolves to track down her lover and exact his revenge but when he confronts the man about his misdeeds, he instead strikes up an unlikely friendship, making him question whether he should continue with his vengeful scheme. Drama, starring Liam Neeson, Antonio Banderas and Laura Linney. (2008)

THURSDAY
The Perfect Assistant, Channel 5, 3.15pm
A woman becomes obsessively infatuated with her boss, but does not act on her desires out of respect for his family. However, when his wife becomes seriously ill, she sees an opportunity to murder her, so the object of her affection will be available. Thriller, starring Josie Davis, Chris Potter and Sophie Gendron. (2008)

FRIDAY

A psychopathic rapist is released from prison and plots revenge on the defence attorney he blames for his imprisonment. Thriller remake, starring Robert De Niro, Nick Nolte, Jessica Lange, Juliette Lewis and Gregory Peck. (1991)

Pick of the Week

Comedians do their bit for a worthy cause

It's that time of the year again, when the great and the good of the comedy world gather at London's O2 to perform in front of a packed audience while raising money for the Great Ormond Street Hospital Children's Charity.

Actually, the gig itself took place on May 16, with tickets snapped up weeks in advance, despite some of them costing a rather lofty £150. Mind you, the sheer number of outstanding performers on view means that you could argue it was very good value.

So if you weren't lucky enough to get one, couldn't afford it, or it was too far to travel, fret not because Channel 4 is broadcasting the show in its entirety.

Those included in the line-up are Aisling Bea, Alan Carr, Jack Dee, Jason Byrne, Jason Manford, Jo Brand, Jon Richardson, John Bishop, Jonathan Ross, Josh Widdicombe, Kevin Bridges, Lee Evans, Michael McIntyre, Paddy McGuinness, Paul Chowdhry, Sean Lock, Seann Walsh and Warwick Davis.

Also featured are Adam Hills, who's fast becoming the face of Channel 4 thanks to his series The Last Leg and hosting celebrity versions of Fifteen to One (another of which can be seen on Friday), and Kerry Godliman, who's well known for her starring role as Hannah in Ricky Gervais's kind-hearted comedy drama Derek.

While we're all guffawing at their on-stage antics, it's easy to forget the good cause the entertainers are raising money for.

According to the charity's website, funds from the event will go towards a brand-new operating theatre at the hospital that will aid surgeons in their efforts to treat an increased number of children with rare and often life-threatening conditions.

So far, the previous four Comedy Galas have raised an impressive £2.5million, for which Tim Johnson, Chief Executive of Great Ormond Street Hospital Children's Charity, is very grateful.

"Around one in three inpatients at Great Ormond Street Hospital will have surgery at some point during their stay, so it's vital for us to have modern, world-class surgical facilities," says Johnson. "The money raised by Channel 4's Comedy Gala is helping us make a real difference for patients and families from across the UK."

This year's gala is particularly poignant because it's dedicated to the memory of Addison Cresswell, who came up with the idea for the show.

Cresswell was a tour de force in the comedy world, acting as the agent for many of those appearing at the Gala, including Brand, Ross and Dee.

He died suddenly of a heart attack in December last year, after which a spokesman said: "Addison leaves behind a proud legacy in his tireless charity work, initiating and organising the annual Channel 4 Comedy Gala in aid of Great Ormond Street Hospital.

"It was his dearest wish to raise enough to fund the opening of a brand-new wing of the hospital, a goal that is now in sight."

It's fitting that many of those whose careers he gave at least a nudge to over the years are giving up their time to help a worthy cause that was so close to his heart.

Channel 4's Comedy Gala 2014, Thursday, Channel 4, 9pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY
Secret Life of Cats
ITV, 9pm
An insight into the world of the much-loved pet, using new filming techniques to uncover the qualities possessed by every cat, from pedigree breeds to ordinary household moggies. The documentary, narrated by Martin Clunes, reveals how these animals employ acute senses and excellent balance to explore their surroundings, and tells some remarkable stories, from the surprising relationship between a blind Labrador and his feline friend, to the cat that survived falling from a 19th-floor flat. Secret Life of Babies is tomorrow at 9pm.

TUESDAY
Quads: Our First Year
ITV, 8pm
After nearly four years of trying for a baby, Julian and Sharon Turner thought they might never conceive, but on their final attempt at IVF two implanted embryos split, giving them two sets of identical twins – two boys and two girls – an event calculated at odds of 70 million to one. This documentary follows the quadruplets' hectic first 12 months, from the precarious early weeks – born three months premature – through the demands of round-the-clock care, to the siblings' birthday celebrations.

Secret Life of Babies
ITV, 9pm
Following on from last night's Secret Life of Cats, Martin Clunes narrates this revealing insight into the world of infants. But which one's better? Hang on, Harry Hill already tried to find that out on TV Burp years ago… Instead, this documentary uses scientific research to reveal what it's like to be a baby from their perspective. Their lives are confusing enough, so when the programme then places them in a string of unusual situations, from experiencing 100-metre heights to towering over miniature buildings, the babies' reactions are fascinating. There's also some inspiring personal stories, including the tale of the six-month-old who was blown off a pier in his pushchair – and, incredibly, lived to tell (well, gurgle) the tale.

WEDNESDAY
Live International Football
ITV, 7.30pm
The build-up to England's World Cup campaign continues with this friendly against Ecuador, which represents the penultimate match before Roy Hodgson's men take to the field for their Group D opener against Italy in 10 days' time. The fixture takes place at the Sunlife Stadium in Miami, as England look to acclimatise to an increase in temperature and humidity that is likely to be such a factor in Brazil. Ecuador are a largely unknown quantity for England, with the nations having met on just two occasions, the last of which was in the 2006 World Cup when a David Beckham goal was all that separated the sides, allowing England to progress to the quarter-finals.

The McCanns and the Conman
Channel 5, 9pm
The shocked eyes of the world turned to Portugal in May of 2007, when four-year-old Madeleine McCann disappeared from her hotel room, as her parents had dinner a few metres away. This one-off documentary takes a look at Operation Omega, the secret private investigation in 2008 to find the little girl. The investigation was set up by security consultant Kevin Halligen, but as it went on, it came to light that Halligen was not a spy at all – instead he was one of the world's most audacious conmen. But that's not to take away from the operation – significant information and leads uncovered from Omega have actually gone on to form part of the current Scotland Yard inquiry to find out what happened to Madeleine.

Farewell Tina, Friday, ITV, 8pm

THURSDAY
Big Brother: Power Trip Live Launch
Channel 5, 9pm
New series. Emma Willis hosts the first of two launch editions as the fly-on-the-wall reality show returns for its 15th season, ushering in another diverse group of fame-seeking individuals who have been chosen to spend their summer invading the nation's living rooms. Expect the usual selection of likely lads, would-be Wags and outsiders who will be stepping into a house that has undergone a complete redesign, with futuristic stark open spaces and sleek clean lines. As ever, multiple cameras will be catching the housemates' every word and move – and as this year's theme suggests, 'power' is all-important. But who will be in charge? That remains to be revealed.

FRIDAY
Farewell Tina
ITV, 8pm
She had the brightest smile and the deepest tan in Weatherfield, but sadly barmaid Tina McIntyre is no longer around to bring a little sunshine to our screens. The Coronation Street character met a sticky end this week, but while soap fans try to come to terms with her loss, this documentary tells the story of Tina's alter ego, actress Michelle Keegan. We get to see just how perfect she was for the part as Michelle watches her 2007 audition tape for the first time.

D-Day 70: The Heroes Return
BBC2, 8pm
Huw Edwards presents highlights of today's events from Normandy commemorating the 70th anniversary of the D-Day landings by Allied troops. Normandy '44: The Battle Beyond D-Day can be seen at 9.30pm.

The Infiniti gives a buzz to the luxury end of market

By Bill McCarthy

Infiniti for many, could conjure up images of children's favourite Buzz Lightyear, So for those people still in the dark about Infiniti, the start of the Formula 1 season will give ample reminders.

The Japanese car maker, the luxury arm of Nissan, sponsors the Red Bull racing team. And while the brand, launched in the UK continues to grow slowly in the public's consciousness, it has been around for more than 25 years, gaining particular success in America.

The cars are at the executive, luxury end of the market and offer a combination of standout design, powerful engines and cutting edge technology.

The also offer a high level of standard equipment across the range, which can add many thousands to the prices of their competitors.

No better example perhaps of this is the new Q50, a luxury saloon which is packed with technology and features a new, 2.1 litre diesel engine sourced from Mercedes, plus a hybrid version. It also marks the first car in the Q or QX range, which will brand all their cars, right up to the Formula 1 Q100 driven by Sebastian Vettel.

It is an eye-catching car both inside and out and definitely food for thought for its German rivals. The turbocharged diesel gives the car decent acceleration and excellent economy, plus, importantly, low CO2 emissions which make it a real option in the all-important business sector. Emissions of just 114 g/km put it in the lowest benefit in kind taxation bracket and while the claimed 64-odd mpg average consumption seemed optimistic, the car was easily in the mid-50s range.

The 170PS diesel has plenty of urge, propelling the vehicle to 60mph from a standing start in just 8.5 seconds and on to a top speed of 144mpg. But it is not all about the power. This is a refined unit with little diesel clatter and what engine, road and wind noise there is, is effectively muffled by the car's soundproofing system. Transmission is delivered via a slick-shifting six speed gearbox sending drive to the rear wheels.

Another advantage is how the car looks, a distinct difference to the German market leaders and always attracting curiosity. It has flowing, yet muscular lines, eye-catching headlight and rear light clusters, twin exhausts twin, five-spoke 17-inch alloys and off course the Infiniti badge.

The exterior is also protected with the firms 'healing' paint, which self repairs small scratches. Inside the car is both roomy and comfortable. It has the longest wheelbase in its class so both front and rear occupants get good head and leg room. It also features a huge 500 litre boot and the rear seat splits 60/40 for extra luggage space and there is access to the boot through the rear centre armrest. The layout of the dash and controls is neat and logical while the dash features a battery of hi-tech equipment, dominated by the central dual touchscreen which looks pretty much like a computer tablet with its swipeable screen.

For the most part fixtures and fitting are high class, but the expensive feeling soft touch finish in some areas is let down by some lower grade plastics. The steering wheel is also multi function and the car features the now-commonplace push button starter. Needless to say luxury cars need to ride well and the Q50 is a comfortable car to be a passenger and driver and although perhaps not the most dynamic of models, it still feels sure footed and grips well on corners.

At just over £30k this is a lot of car for the money. Whether it can attract the potential buyers from the established German brands remains to be seen but throw in standard kit like Infiniti Drive Mode Selector, Bluetooth, rear view camera, zone adaptive climate control, six-speaker sound system and heated leather seats and it looks an attractive package.

Tick all the boxes with impressive all-rounder

By David Banner

Over the past few years I have been pro-claiming to anyone who would listen, or for that matter anybody who asked, my advice on car ownership, the merits of Skoda.

The marque has been transformed and is now at the top end of affordable vehicles which everyone should consider.

It is my view that with the strange sounding Yeti, Skoda has produced probably its best car to date.

The Yeti is well packaged, brilliantly sized with impressive on and off-road behaviour characteristics,

Skoda has tapped into the marketplace which all manufacturers now have to be involved in. It is a vehicle which, if you feel you need a 4 x 4 but you want to be seen to be a bit green, you should take a look at.

Whilst not wanting to be negative, I think the designers may have attended the old Volvo design school, because the vehicle is rather angular.

The advantage of this is that it places a wheel at each corner, and this translates to excellent off-road ability, in so far as you do not have any annoying overhangs front or rear which could be a problem if you were seriously off-roading.

Add in to the equation the huge windows all round and the high seating position, and it means even rear passengers have excellent all-round visibility – this is another box to be ticked by the Yeti.

I like to sit in the back of the vehicle I am testing. I am just over 6ft tall and if I can get comfortable with sufficient head, and importantly, knee room, then most people can.

The Yeti has the advantage of the rear seats being adjustable. The outer two seats can slide backwards, and you can also alter the amount of recline to the backrest, so you can really get quite comfortable.

Advantage

The boot is not overly generous and it was very awkward to load large items due to the high sill. The vehicle, of course, has the advantage of seats which fold out of the way, so that you can carry bigger loads should you so wish.

The Yeti is available with five engine derivatives, two petrols, a 1.2-litre and a 1.8-litre, producing 105bhp and 160bhp respectively.

Then there are two diesel options with power outputs of 110bhp and to 170bhp. A smaller1.2-litre engine is only available in the two-wheel drive version.

The driving dynamics of the Yeti are of a friendly companion which does all you ask from it. It's a sure-footed vehicle on all types of terrain.

In a deluge of recent thunderstorms, I felt secure and cocooned in a degree of safety with the permanent four-wheel drive system fitted.

I ventured to a very wet car boot sale and whilst others were sliding around and trying to exit the muddy terrain, the Yeti sat down, got on with the job and got me out of the situation without any undue stress.

The amount of standard equipment is quite impressive, even the entry level has air conditioning with remote central locking and electric front windows.

If alloy wheels have to be part of your package, then you need to look at an S derivative and this also introduces front fog lamps and the rear windows are electrically operated. Dual zone climate control, parking sensors, and a better CD is introduced in the SE, and the top specification, Elegance, has leather upholstery.

For me an S level would tick all the boxes, especially if it was the two-litre turbo diesel engine.

My test Yeti Elegance Outdoor 2.0 TDi, 4 x 4, was priced at £24,950. Yeti prices start from £16,405.

MG's new supermini looks like a good choice

By David Banner

The MG badge is back. We could argue it came back over 18 months ago with MG6, but that is a large saloon vehicle, whereas the MG3 is attempting to put back a sense of style, bit of fun and certainly affordability into the marketplace.

The MG3 is pitched into the important supermini category, and it should hold its head in this company.

It has a reasonably economical engine, high levels of specification, and it does not look too out of place in the car park. And one of the big plusses with the MG is its pricing structure.

There are four derivatives and the entry level starts at a mere £8,399, even the top specification is priced at just £9999, and this has to be superb value for money, assuming the vehicle lives up to expectations.

The new MG3 is mostly built in China by MG's new owners, SAIC, the final assembly takes place in the UK. The vehicle was designed and styled in the UK, where over 300 engineers and designers are employed to produce vehicles suitable for the UK and European market, and certainly the ride and handling have been honed to perfection for our bumpy roads.

It is a delight to see the octagonal badge back on the bonnet and also displayed on the cylinder head cover in the engine bay.

The whole range is powered by a single 1.5-litre engine which produces 105ps. There have been complaints the engine lacks power and is a lethargic. It is not an engine which produces a lot of torque at low speed, but when you rev it and get the needle above 3,000 revs, then it starts to reward you.

The five-speed gearbox was a delight to operate, and even allowing for the lack of torque, it was not really problematic to change gear frequently to make progress.

The economics of running the vehicle are ones of not very high mpg figures. The manufacturer suggests 48-plus should be available, I managed to achieve 40mpg over a varied 4,000 miles whilst in ownership of the vehicle.

The CO2 emissions at 136 g/km are not going to place the MG3 in the ultra cheap Vehicle Excise Duty category and that is a shame.

The big feature for me, however, is the huge amount of interior space. Iif a small supermini is your choice but you need to move four adults, five at a push, then you seriously need to check out the MG3.

My 6ft-plus frame in the driver's seat still enabled a 6ft-plus person to sit behind me, with ample amounts of leg, head and shoulder room. This really is worth a couple of extra ticks on your shopping list. The boot space was adequate but not overly generous.

The interior has sadly followed the fashion of today with lots of black plastic and a very dark overall look. However, there was some wonderful contrasting red stitching on the steering wheel and on the superb sport-type seats.

The vehicle, from a driver's perspective, was not overly complicated – just radio controls contained on the steering wheel, and two stalks on the steering column, one for the wipers and combined computer and one for the lights and indicators.

There was a cubby-hole on the dashboard, hidden behind a roller cover. The kind people at MG had fitted as an afterthought, an iPad connection. This to me was a bit of a waste of money and wasted space.

Four trim levels are available, my test car was the 3 FORM Sport and this was extensively equipped. It included air conditioning, the driver and passenger's wing mirrors are electronically adjustable and heated, and in addition there was a DAB radio and a Bluetooth facility to either stream in your music or telephone.

Safety has not been overlooked and there are a plethora of airbags including driver and passenger, side and curtain airbags.

The MG is also equipped with an anti-lock braking system and a stability control. One feature which works quite nicely is the hill-hold control.

Double success for Fiat

Trade Van Driver, the UK's top van magazine for small business users, has named the Fiat Professional line-up 'Best Trade Van Range' in the Trade Van Driver Awards.

The magazine, which is the only publication to cater specifically for owner-drivers and small fleet operators, also named the Fiat Doblò Work Up as the 'Best Small Pick Up' in the 2014 awards.

Both trophies were presented to Sebastiano Fedrigo, director, Flat Professional UK, by Matthew Eisenegger, editor of Trade Van Driver, at the 2014 Commercial Vehicle show, at The NEC Birmingham.

Adjudicated not only by a team of expert TVD journalists but also by a panel of readers who use light commercial vehicles as an integral part of their businesses, the awards offer a true reflection of the sentiments of those customers who use their commercial vehicles day to day.

Commenting on the Fiat Professional range, the panel noted: "The needs of trade users are many and varied, and Fiat Professional has taken massive strides in the past few years towards fulfilling all those requirements. Fiat Professional offers a superb range of models and has a real 'can do' attitude towards trade buyers."

Commenting on the second successive win for the Fiat Doblò Work Up, the jury noted that since winning last year "…no-one has come up with a better alternative."

in memoriam

BRADLEY
Violet and Jim
Mom, May 28, 2012.
Dad, July 26, 2012.
You are never more than a thought away, loved and missed every day.
From your loving Daughter Pam, Tom and all the Family.
XXX

LEIGHTON
Craig
One year May 30, 2013
No length of time can ease our pain, our love for you is just the same, you are in our thoughts both night and day and in our hearts you will always stay.
Love, Mum, Dad, Leon, Nicky, Shaz and Kev.
XXX

ROBINS
Elsie May
Six years May 29th.
We think about you every day, in our hearts you will always stay.
Look after our Phil.
Love, from Glen, Ian and Adam.
XXX

ROBINS
Elsie May
Six years.
She was a Mum so very rare, content in her home and always there.
On earth she toiled, in Heaven she rests, God bless you Mum, you were the best.
Look after Philip now he is in your loving care.
All our love, Patricia and Colin, Glen, Ian, Adam and Michelle, Neil, Esther, Amy, Emily and Ben.

acknowledgements

NICHOLLS
Fred
The Wife of the late Fred Nicholls would like to thank all Family, Friends and Neighbours for cards and sympathy at this very sad time.
We would also like to thank St. Giles' Hospice and Marie Curie Nurses for their kindness and care, also to Halliwell Funeral Directors and to the Reverend Edward Sakwe for their services.
Donations will go to St. Giles' Hospice and Marie Curie Nurses.

WINFIELD
Margaret
Family of the late Margaret Winfield would like to express heartfelt thanks to Relatives, Friends and Neighbours for all their help and expressions of sympathy given during this sad time.
Your generous donations will be forwarded to Diabetes UK.
Thank you all.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.
Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

public & legal notices

Staffordshire County Council

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 (AS AMENDED)
ROAD TRAFFIC (TEMPORARY RESTRICTIONS) ACT 1991
HAYES WAY, CANNOCK
TEMPORARY CLOSURE OF FOOTWAY

NOTICE is hereby given that the Staffordshire County Council intend, not less than seven days from the date of this Notice, to make an Order the effect of which will be to prohibit pedestrians from proceeding along the southern footway of Hayes Lane, Cannock from its roundabout junction with Pheasant Way to its roundabout junction with A460 Eastern Way, a distance of approximately 120 metres.

The preferred alternative route for pedestrians will be available on the northern footway of Hayes Way.

THE ORDER WILL COME INTO OPERATION ON 02 JUNE 2014, AND THE SAID WORKS WILL COMMENCE ON OR AS NEAR AS PRACTICABLE TO THAT DATE. IT IS ANTICIPATED THAT THE WORKS WILL BE COMPLETED BY 27 JUNE 2014.

The Order will remain in force for a period of 18 months or until the Highway Improvement works, which it is proposed to carry out on or near the footway, have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Sales of club shirt outstrip old record

SALES of Wolves' new home shirts have topped 5,000 in just three weeks – the highest number sold since they last reached the Premier League in 2009.

A new delivery of the gold and black jerseys manufactured by Puma is set to arrive towards the end of June, but there are still some limited sizes available after they flew off the shelves at the quickest rate in five years.

The shirts were launched for the final home game of the season against Carlisle – when they were worn by the players for the first time – following the pop-up art gallery launch by head coach Kenny Jackett, captain Sam Ricketts and team-mates Carl Ikeme and Danny Batth

Fans can pre-order their out-of-stock size now to secure their new home shirt as part of the next shipment. Go to www.wolvesmegastore.co.uk or visit outlets at Molineux or Dudley Street in Wolverhampton. The new Puma away kit will be launched in July.

Wolves head of commercial affairs Paul Lakin said: "We're delighted the home shirt has been so well received. The record sales speak for themselves."

Amanda takes reins for horse show

Amanda Chatfield and Marcus

Equestrian

A HAMERWICH rider is off to the Horse of the Year Show after winning a place through a qualifying tournament.

Amanda Chatfield, aged 52, took first place in the Show Hunter class at the South Essex Insurance Broker's (SEIB) Search for a Star 2014 qualifier, held at Vale View Equestrian Centre in Leicestershire.

Riding her horse, Kingsclough Masquerade, Amanda fought off stiff competition from other riders to qualify.

She said:"I have been dreaming about this for 40 years."

Marcus (Kingsclough Masquerade) is an Irish Draft Sport horse . Amanda brought the eight-year-old chestnut gelding as an unbroken four-year-old for her son, but when he gave up riding she kept the horse and Pony Club friend, Chloe Dyche, 17, now shares the ride.

Amanda found the horse quite difficult and very nearly sold him. "I asked Josh White to help and we persevered and he helped turn him into the horse he is today," she said. "Marcus was very fiery and his response to fear was to bronc. Thank goodness he has given that up. He really is a lovely horse, very loving and enjoys cuddles."

Marcus and Chloe have competed in Pony Club eventing and show jumping. They have won two Pony Club one-day events, dressage to music at the Dengie Winter Dressage Championships and fifth at the National Novice Dressage Championships.

Amanda and Marcus will compete at The SEIB Search for a Star Championship finals at the Horse of the Year Show, October 8-12, at the Birmingham NEC.

Fire sale ruled out by boss Lambert

VILLA boss Paul Lambert has vowed he will not sell Christian Benteke and ruled out a fire sale.

Lambert says he will resist all attempts from clubs to sign the claret and blues' stars but is wary others could cash in on the club's unsettled situation.

Benteke is out for at least another five months with an Achilles injury while Fabian Delph and Ron Vlaar have a year left on their contracts.

But Lambert is determined to hold onto Villa's stars to give them a fighting chance while the club searches for a new owner.

He said: "I think you'll still have the final say with who came and who went. You would have that on your side.

"I don't visualise anyone leaving without my permission, that's fair to say. The chairman will let me decide over on that side.

"You have to understand and respect his good work which he has done.

"That shouldn't be overlooked. Everything you see should never be overlooked but you have to respect he wants to do his own thing."

Lambert is trying to restore calm during Villa's chaotic time with the club on the market.

Ibe's hat-trick adds to England's six appeal

England U-19s 6 Montenegro 0

MUCH has been made of the conditions facing England's senior side in Brazil this summer.

On Saturday, their under-19 counterparts experienced the best and very worst the Midlands has to offer when they took on Montenegro at Walsall's Banks's Stadium.

Football

But whether in sunshine or in torrential rain, England were simply too strong for their opponents as they cruised to a 6-0 victory in the first game of the European Championship Elite Round thanks to Jordon Ibe's superb hat-trick.

Chelsea's Lewis Baker, from the spot, and Southampton's Sam Gallagher were also on the mark, while the finest strike of the bunch came from Aston Villa's Callum Robinson deep into stoppage time.

It was all entertaining fare for the 1,897 who turned out to watch and perhaps a sign of brighter times to come for followers of the Three Lions – should any of these youngsters make the grade.

"We have some really good forward players," said head coach Noel Blake afterwards.

Ibe's fine opener came just as the heaviest downpour was easing off. The Liverpool youngster, who spent last season on loan at Blues, ran 25 yards across goal with the ball before letting fly from just inside the area, his shot taking a deflection on its way into the bottom corner.

The torrential rain was back for the start of the second half but it was a different storm which hit Montenegro, as England struck four times in 12 minutes to end the game as a contest.

Josh Murphy was first to find the target on 52 minutes when he tumbled under Licina's challenge.

The Montenegro stopper correctly guessed Baker would send the spot-kick to his left but it was too quick and well-placed for him to do anything about it.

Five minutes later Ibe had his second, stroking home Matthew Targett's cross first time after he had been played in on the left by Murphy.

Licina, who had so brilliantly denied Gallagher earlier in the game, then presented the striker with the fourth on a plate as he dropped a routine cross at his feet before Ibe sidefooted home Murphy's cross – after a fine run – to make it five with still 25 minutes on the clock.

But Robinson rounded off an emphatic win for England when he sent a stunning shot into the top corner from 30 yards out in stoppage time.

Pupils have a ball after Banks's call-up

Alfie Wass, Jack Summers, Christian Clinton and Owen Diegnan with the other ballboys with gifts from the FA

PUPILS from a Rugeley school had a ball when they were called into action for an international game at the Banks's Stadium.

Youngsters from Chase View Primary joined friends from Holy Name Primary, in Great Barr as international ball boys and flag bearers. They were chosen for duties for three UEFA Under-19s qualifiers.

The children were invited by Walsall FC head of community Adam Davy who said it was because the same children had done a similar job for Walsall in the past and always been extremely reliable and well behaved.

Saturday's match was played in the pouring rain between England and Montenegro. Before the match they held the official flags on the pitch as the players lined up and undertook their roles as ball boys in a convincing 6-0 win for England in front of a crowd of nearly 2,000. After the game the children had the opportunity to meet the whole England team and received a commemorative pendant and pen from the FA.

Monday's match saw Montenegro take on Ukraine.

This meant much more action for the boys as they regularly had to go into the stands to retrieve the ball and got a really close encounter of the action. Ukraine won 4-0.

Bosses are chosen for ladies side

WALSALL Ladies have appointed a new management team.

Lewis Jones and Josh Russell are to take over at the West Midlands Premier outfit with immediate effect, taking over from Lee Simpson. Jones is a former coach at Solihull, who play in the Midland Combination, a division above Walsall.

Russell is a schools football coach in Birmingham and has also been in charge of Solihull's reserve team.

"Lewis was keen to step up and be a manager and we are happy to give him the chance," explained Walsall Ladies chairman Brian Simpson.

The team play their home games at Great Wyrley FC.

Collymore in MOTD2 pundit role

FORMER Wolves, Villa and Stafford Rangers striker Stan Collymore is joining Match of the Day 2 as a guest pundit.

The 43-year-old ex-footballer-turned-broadcaster announced on Twitter that he will appear on the sister edition of the BBC's flagship football show next season.

The talkSPORT presenter said: "Delighted to have been asked to guest on BBC MOTD 2 next season! Radio schedule willing. Come on!"

It follows the retirement after 22 years of Alan Hansen at the end of this summer's World Cup.

Collymore recently accused Twitter of not doing enough about abusive trolls after he was the target of abusive remarks.

Poets well versed in collecting trophies

Brereton Town Cup final

FIRST Division Champions Poet's Corner completed a hat-trick of knockout triumphs by lifting the 45th Brereton Town Cup to add to the divisional cup and the Cannock Chase Cup.

Littleton's Richard Tapper scored twice, either side of goals from Richard Harris, an own goal and sub Richard Bakewell but Poet's Corner completed the quadruple and collected the trophy from Jim Houston.

Lichfield Charity Cup final

Victoria FC made history by becoming the first second division side to win the Lichfield Charity Cup, adding to the Cannock Charity Cup.

Two Lee Charles penalties put the Cannock Chase League side in control against Lichfield League side Prince of Wales before a late consolation goal.

Jock Corrigan Memorial Cup final

Holders Rugeley Utd – in their fourth consecutive final – beat Brereton Social Lion 3-2 to retain the trophy.

Mark Jones scored a late winner to give Rugeley Utd a record fourth Corrigan Cup, presented to the winning captain by Mrs Mandy Corrigan.

Chase View stump rivals to lift crown

Winners Joshua Pearce, McKenzie John, Jake Cartwright, Jake Poole, Ryley Archer, Reiss Walters, Liam Middleton

Cricket

A SCHOOL cricket team have been crowned champions after winning a local tournament.

Chase View Primary is celebrating after its Kwik Cricket team was crowned champions of Rugeley after winning the schools' tournament organised by Rugeley Cricket Club.

The team took part in three matches with their first opponents being St Joseph's Catholic Primary School.

Chase View elected to field first. In Kwik cricket teams start with 200 runs, bat in pairs facing three 12-ball overs per pair and lose runs if bowled or caught out. St Joseph's scored a respectable 247-3 but in their batting innings this was comfortably overtaken by Chase View who finished the game with 259-2.

The second game saw Chase View take on Churchfields and after winning the toss for the second time, Chase View again elected to field and at the end of the innings Churchfields had scored 248.

Chase View's good batting score in this game was brought massively down by a lot of wickets and catches meaning they finished on a disappointing 220-6.

The third round of games saw Chase View face John Bamford Primary. This time Chase View lost the toss and were put into bat and scored 269 without loss, with John Bamford scoring 237-4.

At the end, all three of the schools had secured two wins and a defeat meaning the winners would be determined by a runs to wickets average, meaning Chase View won and now look forward to going on to represent Rugeley in the regional finals.

Champs keep their unbeaten record

IT was exciting, end to end netball, in the Division 1 match between reigning champions Sapphets and runners-up Chasetown A when they met in the Wolverhampton City Netball league.

Sapphets just managing to keep their unbeaten record to win by just one goal 22-21. Sam 2 pushed Whitmore X close but just missed out 27-29.

Whitmore Z and Ignite in Divison 2 had to share the points in another evenly matched contest resulting in a 20-20 draw.

Division 3 Ladybirds were flying high in their match against Sedgley Sirens winning 23-12, Sirens just missing out on a point, for being just under 50 per cent of the score. Libra Lea Navy came out on top in their encounter with Wanderers 1 winning 23-12.

Blaze are back on form overpowering newcomers Core Stars in their Division 5 clash winning 35-3. Allsortz did their best but also lost out to Thundercats 4-25.

This year's Annual Dinner Dance/Presentation evening will be held at Goodyears Pavilion on Friday June 13 where last season's league winners/runners-up, and individual awards will be presented.

Alert over Brandy as Hemmings departs

WALSALL are now on alert over Febian Brandy as Ashley Hemmings waved goodbye to the Banks's Stadium.

Hemmings posted on Twitter this week to confirm he will be leaving the Saddlers when his playing contract expires next month.

The 23-year-old has been on loan at League Two Burton Albion since March but did not feature in the Brewers League Two play-off final defeat to Fleetwood, failing to make the bench.

Football

Hemmings, who joined the Saddlers two years ago after being released by Wolves posted: "Finally the end of the season and so gutted for the boys at @burtonalbionfc who've worked so hard an (sic) deserved to get promoted.. the best for them in the future.. An (sic) I hope the best for everyone at @WFCOfficial as well..

"My time there has came (sic) to an end.. Been ups an downs but I've learnt a lot an enjoyed my 2 years there. Thank you all."

Struggled

Though it is yet to be confirmed by the club, Hemmings' departure will not come as a major surprise to any of those involved with the Banks's Stadium club

Despite scoring five goals last season, the winger struggled for consistency after a bright start to the campaign and then found himself out in the cold when the Saddlers re-signed Brandy on loan in January.

It is the latter's future which will now be of greater interest to fans, after reports in Yorkshire suggested Sheffield United are prepared to let the 25-year-old go for the right price. Brandy has struggled to settle at Bramall Lane since moving there last summer and looks increasingly surplus to requirements, following the Blades signing of former Notts County wideman Jamal Campbell-Ryce.

The Saddlers are keeping a keen eye on events during the off-season as Smith looks to fill the hole left by the departure of Andy Butler and rebuild for the coming season.

After bagging four goals during an impressive loan spell back with the Saddlers, boss Dean Smith and Brandy are now keen on a permanent return but several obstacles appear to be standing in the way before that can become a reality.

But Brandy still has a year left on his deal with the Blades, who are unlikely to let him go for free.

The Saddlers have not paid out for a transfer fee since 2005 which was when they bought James Constable from Chippenham Town for £4,000 – with the last significant sum being the £150,000 used to buy Jorge Leitao from Feirense in 2000.

Sevens heaven as Rugeley rain victorious

RUGELEY Sevens rugby team got their summer season off to a great start with a win in the Shropshire Sevens competition which was held across the border in Bridgnorth.

As the torrential rain fell, Rugeley were slow out of the blocks with an opening defeat to the Telford Stingers losing 17-12. A further defeat followed to Bridgnorth – although this game was close and Dean Ainger, making his first Rugeley appearance managed a brace of tries.

The final match of the round robin saw a Rugeley face-off against Bridgnorth Cs.

A victory saw Rugeley progress to the semi final stage another victory saw Rugeley into the Shield Final.

Ashley Johnson ran riot scoring four tries to ensure Rugeley returned to Staffordshire with silverware.

The fifth annual Rugeley Sevens tournament sponsored by local law firm Ansons LLP takes place this Saturday (May 31) with teams asked to register by 10am for a 10.30 start.

Kickboxer adds to medal haul

A TEENAGED kickboxer added another first place to his impressive medal haul. James Knapton competed at the Top Ten British Championships at Birmingham's NEC on May 17 and 18.

The 15-year-old Cheslyn Hay Sport & Community High School pupil came away with first place in the Boys Light Continuous +62kg.

James also obtained a second place in the Boys Points fighting +62kg after taking his opponent to extra time in the final and narrowly losing by one point.

James has been training at the Lee Matthews BMMA Clubsince he was eight and trains at their satellite school in Cannock on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Robinson guns for Euro glory

CALLUM ROBINSON says he wants to cash in on a dream season by firing England to the European Championships.

The Villa starlet is eyeing more success with the under-19s this summer after his claret and blue breakthrough.

Noel Blake's team need just a draw against Ukraine tonight to reach the European Championships in Hungary this July after a 2-1 win over Scotland.

Robinson scored in the 6-0 rout of Montenegro at the Banks's Stadium on Saturday and revealed he is revelling in his achievement this season.

"It's been a season I wouldn't have expected really," he said.

Holden ready to fight for his place

DEAN Holden says he is fit and ready to play his part for Walsall next season.

The 34-year-old central defender has already signed a new deal to again be player-coach at the Saddlers.

Holden did not play a single minute in League One last term, failing to dislodge the first-choice centre-back pairing of Paul Downing and Andy Butler, before suffering a fractured knee cap in January which prematurely ended his campaign.

But the former Rochdale, Shrewsbury and Chesterfield man insists he is nowhere near ready to hang up his boots and will be back fighting for his place.

"I have got myself in tip-top condition and I want to be fit enough to play when the gaffer needs me," he said. "I got myself in great shape for the end of the season and I'll be going into pre-season really fit so I'm ready to fight for my place.

"The gaffer has signed me as a player-coach."

Holden's decision to sign his new deal immediately has taken some of the pressure off manager Dean Smith as he hunts replacements for departed skipper Butler. Doubts remain over whether left-back Andy Taylor will re-sign. Smith is still to conclude deals for full-backs Ben Purkiss and James Chambers.

Wolves ready for challenge

PLAYER of the year Kevin McDonald believes Wolves will be primed and ready for the Championship's gruelling physical demands next season.

The team's chief playmaker is confident head coach Kenny Jackett's attention to detail will leave nothing to chance in the League One champions' bid for a major impact in the second tier.

Jackett has made the players' conditioning and fitness a key feature of his regime but acknowledges last season's record-breakers will be bidding for a repeat against much more testing opposition.

McDonald, a unanimous Player of the Year winner and stand-out figure in a new team overhauled by Jackett, is already relishing the challenge.

"We're all in good condition."

First bout proves a learning curve for Lucy

Lucy Fletcher

Boxing

A SIXTH form student has become only the second female boxer to represent Great Wyrley ABC.

Lucy Fletcher, aged 17, last weekend made the long trip to Hull to face the more experienced Aleksandra Ribaka of Vulcan ABC, the club which produced 2012 Olympic Gold Medal winner Luke Campbell.

It's been a long tough road for Lucy, who attends Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School. She started boxing 12 months ago, and at first didn't show any natural flair for the game. But with a massive heart, bucket loads of determination and being naturally stubborn, she kept at it, taking her lumps and bumps in sparring and sticking to the strict training regime that comes with boxing.

All the hard work paid off as she entered the ring for the first time.

Short and stocky, Ribaka made her experience tell. She was dangerous early on with a big overhand right hook which Fletcher blocked mainly on her gloves.

Fletcher came into it more in the second round as she finally shook her nerves off and began to time Ribaka's rushes with well-timed one-twos to possibly shade the round. In the last round Ribaka threw more punches in the first minute but Fletcher's superior fitness told in the second half of the last, both girls were glad to hear the final bell.

A unanimous points decision to Ribaka was well-deserved but the Wyrley fighter will have learned a great deal from that bout.

Great Wyrley ABC holds its Annual Exhibition day on Sunday, June 22 at the Great Wyrley Sports and Social Club. An added attraction is a charity bout between " Dangerous" Dan Clarke and Tim "The Trumpet" Love.

Tickets are £7 and available on 07957 601 424.

BRINDLEY RELIVES THE BEST MOMENT

HEDNESFORD Town legend Chris Brindley said his FA Trophy-winning moment was the best of his career as the cup heroes reunited 10 years on.

Keys Park celebrated a decade since the greatest moment in the club's history when defender Brindley scored the winner while serving as player-assistant manager.

Football

Brindley had earlier scored and own goal to put Canvey Island ahead at Villa Park, but popped up at the other end to put the Pitmen 3-2 ahead with just four minutes to go.

It remains the finest moment in the club's history.

And Brindley, born and bred in the area and publican of the Cross Keys just a short walk from the ground, said it was great to see his old team-mates and former boss Barry Powell.

Original

He said: "It was a real good night, there was only one or two from the original squad that didn't turn up and it was great to remember it all over again.

"It's my home-town club, so to score the winner in that game has to go down as my greatest moment as a player.

"It was a fantastic day for everyone involved with Hednesford. It's hard to think it's already been a decade, but the memories certainly haven't been forgotten. It's something the club should celebrate."

Despite missing the showpiece through suspension, club captain Steve Palmer has fond memories as Hednesford beat the likes of Aldershot to reach the final.

"There were games during that cup run that really do stick in the mind of all the players and to be able to get together after a decade as a squad is fantastic," said Palmer, now manager at AFC Wulfrunians.

"It is very difficult to stay in touch with every former team-mate, so it was a really special occasion."

The event was hosted by radio presenter Daz Hale.

Looking to the future, ticket prices throughout Keys Park for Hednesford Town's second successive campaign at Conference North level have now been set ahead of the beginning of pre-season preparations in early July.

Admission prices to the main stand are adults £13 and concessions £8, with terracing adults £12 and concessions £7.

Season ticket prices have been increased, but all holders are now entitled to a free car park pass, on request, from the club. For all other supporters the car park price has been frozen at £1.

Main stand season tickets are priced at adults £234, concessions £144.

£3,000 in darts contest

THE second annual Winmau BDO Wolverhampton Open is already attracting interest from around the UK and further afield, say organisers.

With a £3,000 prize fund (£1,000 to the champion) and a place in the 2014 Winmau World Masters and 2015 Lakeside World Championship Play-offs on offer for the winner, this year's tournament is sure to be hotly contested by the world's best players and local talent.

The tournament will be staged at Wolverhampton Sports Arena, Racecourse Road on SaturdayAugust23.

One of the first players to sign up is double World Champion Ted Hankey, who is fighting back to fitness after a stroke.To register to play in this event, please send a cheque or postal order for £10 along with your name, postal address and email address to The Competition Secretary, British Darts Organisation, Unit 4, Glan-y-Llyn Industrial Estate, Taff's Well, Cardiff, CF15 7JD. Please include an SAE if you require confirmation of your entry. The closing date is Monday August 18.

Blues nearer to a takeover

A TAKEOVER at Birmingham City appeared to be edging closer after it was confirmed an offer has been made to buy part of the club.

Blues parent company, Birmingham International Holdings, confirmed the offer to the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. The firm will only sell a maximum of 24 per cent of its stake.
